Justice Bradley was an authority on such questions, but since his death, all of the justices have been "common-law lawyers."
Justice White now comes with an experience at the bar and on the bench of Louisi-

Speaking of Senator White, he will probably not resign from the senate within couple of weeks, as he will not be sworn in to his new position until March 5th, when ad nothing again today. Although the spring term of the court opens. Blanchard Is the Favorite. In the meantime there is great excitement among the Louisiana delegation as to who will be appointed to succeed Senator White. The delegation seems to be in fav-or of Representative Blanchard, and it is said he stands a good chance of receiving the appointment. However, his vote in favor of the tariff bill may injure his chances, as four out of six Louisiana members of the house voted against the bill on account of being on the free list. Louisiana is more interested in sugar than in any other question in the bill, and the members in that state claim that the placing of sugar on the free list will destroy their most important industry—an industry in which two-thirds of the people of that state are vital-E. IN THE SENATE.

Chandler Worries the Senators-Mr. Mills Has Not Quit the Committee. Washington, February 21 .- After the rouwashington, February 21.—After the rou-tine morning business of the senate, in when the petition of remonstrance against the Wilson tariff bid, was the only thing noticeable, Mr. Allen offered a resolution noticeable, Mr. Allen offered a resolution calling on the attorney general for a statement as to whether he had recently given to the secretary of the treasury an official opinion that silver certificates were not lawful money. and for a copy of such opinion and all correspondence on the subject. With a slight verbal modification the resolution was agreed to.

Mr. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, rose to a question of personal committee, rose to a question of personal privilege, and sent to the clerk's desk and had read a Washington dispatch to The Philadelphia Press, containing a statement as to democratic members of the commit-tee waiting on President Cleveland at the white house and receiving instructions as to his desires on the subject of certain provisions of the bill.

After the dispatch was read, Mr. Voorhees said: "The value of that dispatch from here to one of the leading newspapers of the United States, consists in the fact that there is not the slightest, faintest trace of truth in a single word or syllable in it. Nothing of the kind took place, and nothing out of which it could be manufactured. Not out of which it could be manufactured. Not out of which it could be manufactured. Not a twead exists out of which this fabric of falsehood could have been woven. But, so we go. I fise this morning to the hopeless task of stemming a current of misstatement, knowing, however, that it will go on just, the same. But the effectmentantiality of this statement involving the president of the United States, was such, and the circulation that it will receive is so extensive, that I thought it my duty to lay it before the public and start truth in its tardy race. Things lle and start truth in its tardy race. Things of this kind lead me to reflect how much of falsehood we believe in history. I doubt if seven-tenths of human history is not untrue as written. The correspondent of this paper says that he asked me a question and that I made an evasive answer, but that he was in a position to state the facts, and then he makes a statement which has no foundation at all. I can only say in anthe third that the treat only say in anticipation of some question being asked me that we are doing our work pretty rapidly and pretty well. A good deal of hard work has been done on the Wilson bill, and there will not be much delay. The bill will be reported here at the earliest moment possi-ble, and that moment is not very far off."

Chandler Asks for Information. Mr. Chandler asked Mr. Voorhees to in-form him and the senate whether the senator from Texas. Mr. Mills, or the senato from New Jersey, Mr. McPherson, was a member of the finance committee. Mr. Voorhees informed him that The Rec-ord would show who constituted the committee, and that the senator should look at The Record and not ask rich questions as to who were at work and who were not at work. The senator from Texas had done a magnificent work and was one of the stays of the committee.

Mr. Chandler said that he thought his in Mr. Chandler said that he thought his in-quiry a perfectly proper one.

rering from the effects of the election in Pennsylvania.

This brought a retort from Mr. Vest. It had been long, said Mr. Vest, a question in natural history as to what purpose the mosquito was created. A naturalist who had spent some time in Florida had refently solved the problem and said that the mosquito had been created in order to make human beings so uncomfortable that they would be willing to leave this world so as to obtain the glories and bliss of the next world. "The senator from New Hampshire." said Mr. Vest, "takes, in this body, the place of the mosquito. He has been stinging and prodding everything in teach since his enfrance into the chamber. If he has any purther useful purpose I have never been able to understand it. (Laughter on the floor and in the galleries.) There is no subject on which that senator is not able and willing to drag in any one nis brother senators if he can make him "Incomioriable, even for a single second."

Washington, February 21.—Announcement was made by authority of Senator Mills that he had withdrawn from the senate committee on finance. Whether or not it came about as a result of the debate in the senate or personal solicitation, cannot be said, but at all events, Mr. Mills, late this afternoon, reconsidered his action and will remain with the committee until the bill is passed. "Hhere was a vast amount of remain with the committee until the bill is passed. Rio Janiero, February 21 .- (Copyrighted 1894 by The United Press.)-The merchant vessels at this port are suffering extremely for want of water because of the refusal of the insurgents to allow a water boat to go about the bay and supply such crafts with fresh water. The captain of the British merchantman Nasmyth made application to the commander of a British man-of-war for assistance to enable him to obtain a supply of water and was contemptuously refused. The merchant skipper proposed applying to Admiral Benham for aid, whereupon the commander of the war vessel sneeringly answered that he might do as he liked. The captain of the merchantman then appealed to Admiral Benham, who assigned the cutter Kilbourne to guard the water boat under the American flag. Vessels of all nations are seeking the protection of the United States flag. British sailors are openly cursing English officials, who, they declare, are sacrificing commerce to aid DaGama. Evidence of the existing feeling in this respect is given in the fact that at the principal landing yesterday the British flag was trampled in the dirt by British sailors, whose officers expressed no word of disapproval of their act, which was accompanied by cheers for "Uncle Sam."

Benham Cables the Department. Washington, February 21.—Secretary Gresham today received a cable message from Minister Thompson, dated Rio Janelro, stating briefly that the insurgent warships Aquidaban and Republic had passed out of the harbor this morning under fire of the government forts. The conjecture is that they went after the cruiser Nictheroy, which a few days ago turned up in Rio Janeiro harbor, and then sailed south wardward. Secretary Herbert has received information that no yellow fever exists on board the United States vessels at Rio. A dispatch received today from Admiral Benham says that all on board the ships at Rio are well. It is understood that the De-triot, which has just rejoined Admiral Benham's squadron after a tour of observation in the southern provinces of Brazil reports that the stories of insurgent successes in that quarter are almost fictitious.

THE PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION. Republicans Have a Majority of About 175,000 Votes.

Philadelphia, Pa., February 21.—Complete returns from three-fourths of the sixty-seven counties in the state and close estimates en counties in the state and close estimates of the remaining counties show a plurality of 169,594 for Grow, republican, for congressman at large. This is the largest plurality ever given by the state for any candidate, and may be increased to 175,000. The republicans made almost a clean sweep of the counties, only eleven of the sixty-seven counties giving a plurality for Hancock, democrat.

In 1892, twenty-eight counties gave pluralithe for the democratic candidate for congressman at large. Among the counties which flopped over to the republican column is Lycoming, which had never before given a republican majority on a state ticket. The anthracite coal counties—Schuylkill and Luzerne—are amon those that flopped. Those that remain in the democratic col-umn all show greatly reduced pluralities. Berks county, whose majority usually ranges from 7,500 to 10,000, gives Hancock only 2,340 plurality, and York county, which only 2,300 plurally, and love could, which could always be relied upon for a majority of 3,000 to 4,000 for the democratic candidate gives Hancock a plurality of less than 300. The eleven counties which give pluralities for Hancock are Berks, Clarion. Columbia, Cumberland, Lebigh, Monroe, Montour, Northampton, Pike, Sullivan and York. Philadelphia county gives Grow a plurality of 58,940 and Allegheny county, in with Pittsburg is located, gives up nearly 30,000. Every county in the state shows republican gains as compared with the vote of 1892 with the single exception of the strong republican county of Lancaster, which gives Grow 9,322 plurality, 338 less than was given for General Lilly in 1892.

RAISING IT BY SUBSCRIPTION. Savanuahians Had to Put Up the Money

Themselves.

Savannah, Ga., February 21.—(Special.)—
At a meeting of the bondholders of the Savannah and Atlantic railroad property owners on Tybee island and others meterested in that resort held here this affernech $19,000 was subscribed towards the rebuilding and restoring of the storm-swept Tybee railroad. These are subscriptions to receiver's certificates, which will constitute a first lien on the property and will bear 7 per cent interest. This is more than half the amount needed to rebuild the road and was subscribed by eight members of the meeting, most of whom were bondholders. The others asked a little time in which to consider the matter, and there is little doubt that the other $14,000 needed to make up the amount asked for by the bid-ders will easily be raised. The reply of the Central that the matter was pigeonboled so far as it was concerned stirred the people interested to the point of action. They were not long in coming to the conclusion that they had to go down into their pockets for the amount. This is a good starter, and there is little doubt that work on the road will be begun at an early date.

Erastus Wyman Placed in the Tombs for Forgery.

INDICTED BY A NEW YORK JURY

He is Pronounced a Rascal of the First Rank.

R. G. DUN IS ONE OF THE VICTIMS.

He Says That the High Rolling Financie Has Swindled His Company Out of $219,000 in the Last Few Years.

New York, February 21.-Erastus Wynan, formerly manager for R. G. Dun & Co., mercantile agency, builder of the Staten island rapid transit railroad and a prominent advocate of the annexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States, was arrested today charged with forgeries amounting to $229,000. He was arraigned before Judge Martine in chambers in the general sessions and committed to the Tombs in default of $25,000 bail.

The arrest was made by Detectives von Gerichten and Phil Reilly in the afternoon at the office of Mr. Wyman's son-in-law, Norman S. Miller, in the Washington building, No. 1 Broadway, on a bench warrant, issued by Judge Martine soon after the grand jury had handed down two indictments charging Wyman with forgery in the second degree.

Mr. Wyman expressed some surprise at his arrest and then asked if there would be any opportunity to get ball. He said he ought to have a lawyer and he would like to be represented by counsel. An effort-was made by friends to get bail late in the fternoon, but without success. Neither did Mr. Wyman have counsel when he was, taken to the general sessions by the detectives. As soon as it was known that Mr. Wyman had been arrested, Assistant District Attorney Lindsey made known the complaint upon which the indictments were founded. There was no signature to the complaint, but its authorship is credited to ex-District Attorney Delancy Nicoll.

ex-District Attorney Delancy Nicoll.

The names of the witnesses signed were
R. D. Douglas, E. W. Bullinger, Ogden
Brower, treasurer of the Campbell Printing Press Company, and the cashler of R. G.
Dun & Co. Dun & Co.

Summarized, the complaint says that Wyman was not a partner in the firm of R. G. Dun & Co., but that he was upon a salary and commission, and that by various acts of embezzlement, through misrepresentations, concealments, breaches of agreement, misuse of the powers confided to him and gross usurpation of powers with which he was not trusted, he succeeded, in the years 1888, 1890, 1892 and up to February, 1893, in stealing from Mr. Dun the enormous sum of $229,018. That sum he owes Mr. Dun today.

The complaint says that Wyman has com The complaint says that wyman has committed so many crimes that selection for prosecution is very difficult. Two, however, are specified. Wyman obtained from the cashier of R. G. Dun & Co. a check for $40,000 to pay a bill of E. W. Bullinger, of New York, forged Bullinger's endorsement of the check and deposited the amount to his (Wyman's) individual credit in bank. & Co. afterwards paid Bullinger's claim.

The other transaction is that Wyman procured from Dun & Co.'s cashier a check for $5,580 to pay the Campbell Printing Press Company. It was drawn to the order of Ogden Brower, treasurer of that company. Wyman told the printing press men that Dun & Co. were short of funds and asked them to accept two notes for the amount. This was agreed to. Wyman made the notes in his own name, forged Brower's endorsement on the check and appropriated the ent on the check and appropriated the proceeds to his own use.
Complainants say that Dun first learned of Wyman's felonious acts in the latter part of February, 1893, and on the 20th of that month Dun terminated his contract with Wyman, dismissing him from his em with Wyman, dismissing him from his em-ploy and has never seen him since.

On learning that his crimes had been de-tected, Wyman offered to transfer to Dun-certain real estate interests on Staten island of doubtful value, but Dun learning that Wyman was insolvent, refused to accept them, or to receive any preference over his other creditors. Wyman, therefore. his other creditors. Wyman, the made a formal assignment for the of his creditors, but his assets have amounted to almost nothing. Dun did not submit the proof of Wyman's crimes to authorities on first discovering them for several reasons.

Dun Sympathizes with Him. In the first place he was moved by con-siderations of sympathy for Wyman's fami-ly, with whom he had been on terms of riendship for many years, and the piteous appeals for mercy, which Wyman made to him in a letter. In the second place, he had no appreciation or the extent of the embezzlement nor for the length of time during which he had systematically abused his confidence and betrayed the trust re-posed in him. The whole history of his many doings had to be unearthed from the voluminous records of the business of four or five years. It required a vast amount of time and labor to find all the irregularities by which he succeeded in embezzling so large a sum of money. The whole ac-count, with the history of each item, was not made up until a comparatively recent date. Again Dun was led to believe by the gross exaggeration of Wyman as to the value of Wyman's interest in Staten is and that it was possible to realize something substantial for his creditors, many of whom would suffer more severely than Dun himself, although not in so large a sum.

The fraud practiced on them, as well as upon himself, and upon the conviction that upon himself, and upon the conviction that a man of Wyman's bad character ought not longer to be allowed to masquerade as an honest man in this community and as an adviser and exhorter of youth and out of a sense of obligation to the mercantile world with which he is so closely identified he has decided that his duty requires him to expose Wyman's conduct and to hand him over to the authorities that he may be dealt with as the law directs.

It was with great difficulty that the freshmen were resuscitated, and some of them are very weak from the effects of the gas. The freshmen were in the midst of their first year's festivities when the presence of the gas was discovered. In a few minutes they were overpowered, some becoming unconscious while others suffered the peculiar and maddening sensations produced by chlorine. Search was made for the sophomores who were guilty of the outrage as soon as possible after it became known, but no trace was found of became known, but no trace was found of them. STILL NO QUORUM. Republicans and Eastern Demmocrats Prevent Action in the House.

Washington, February 21.-Less than four score representatives were in their seats today when the session of the house opened, but Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Him today when the session of the house was opened, but Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Hill asserted that a voting quorum would be on hand in the course of the day.

Mr. Bland would not say that the bill would be disposed of, however. He said a number of amendments would be offered to his seigniorage bill and upon them, of course, debate will follow under the five minute rule and he could not say when a vote would be reached.

After prayer and the reading of the journal, Mr. Reed suggested that a report was in order from the sergeant-at-arms, respecting his actions under the order to arrest absentees, so that the house might know how the poll stood. Colonel Snow thereupon reported that all absentees were either in the city or en route hither, except the sick and excused ones, and seven who have been sent for by authorized deputies.

Mr. Reed—Has the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. Johnson, who is reported in a Cleveland telegram this morning to be so defiiant of the authority of the house been for the speaker—The chair is informed that Mr. Reed—I shall have to object. Our members were paraded here in front, and we want to see yours.

The sergeant-at-arms not being ready to report. Mr. Bland moved to go into committee of the whole on his bill to coin the seigniorage of the treasury silver bullion, and on that motion demanded the previous question. Without a division on ordering the previ-

Without a division on ordering the previous question on his motion. Mr. Bland ca:led for the yeas and nays and they were ordered. The vote resulted—yeas 139, nays 11, nine less than a quorum. The following republicans voted with the bulk of the democrats on the motion of Mr. Bland: Messry. Bowers, Broderick, Funston, Hartman and Wilson—5; also the following populists: Baker. Bell. Bowen. Davis, Kell, McKeighan, Pence and Simpson—8.

The negative vote was made up of Messrs. Beltzhover. Cobb. Everett. Hall. McAleer. Mr. tcbler. O'Neill. Pigott. Rusk. Sickles and Wolverton—all democrats.

With the announcement of the result Mr. Bland moved a call of the house which was ordered. It showed 271 members in the hall. The proceedings under the call were dispensed with and another vote began.

The second vote 'esulted-year 157. pays 19. This was a loss of three from the first vote and twelve short of a cucrum. It was stated at the deak, informally, that at the time the first roll call was made there were nine pro-silver representatives in the house, who failed to vote. The addition of that number to the vote would have produced a quorum. Mr. Bland made the motion to order a call of the house, whereupon Mr. Reed interfected:

"It seems to me that the house might better occupy this time in discussing the bill than in wasting it as the gentleman from Missouri persists in doing."

Mr. McMillin—And when will the gentleman from Maine agree to vote?

Mr. Reed—When we get through.

Mr. McMillin—And when will that be?

Mr. Reed—When we have finished, of course. The idea that these gentlemen must have the tail of the situation in their hands before we shall be allowed to debate the subject is all wrong. The custom is for the body to debate a thing until they get through with it. (Cries of regular crder.) That is what we are trying to do, and it is a shame that we cannot be allowed to do it—(renewed cries of order)—by an impotent body that cannot furnish a quorum.

an impotent body that called the quorum.

At this point Speaker Crisp directed the reporters not to take note of the colloquy proceeding out of o.der. "Gentlemen cannot," he said, "make statements out of order and hope to get them on the record."

Mr. Reed remarked that the speaker was entirely correct and he hoped that the ruing would be enforced.

The Chair—It will be.

The Chair—It will be.

The Same Thing Over Again.

On Mr. Bland's motion to order a call of the house, Mr. Reed asked for tellers, and having secured them, Mr. Bland demanded the yeas and nays, thus introducing a variation of the routine of filibustering and slightly complicating one situation. On the motion to order a call of the nouse, the yeas were it and the mays, 35, and the call was begun. Another twist was given the proceedings upon this call of the house. When the clerk had called the list of names once, Mr. Bland asked if the presence of a quorum had been disclosed, and learning that 223 members had answered to their names, moved that further proceedings be dispensed with. A division of the house showed a large majority in favor of the motion, but Mr. Reed asked for tellers and Mr. Bland demanded that the yeas and nays be taken. The demand was seconded by a sufficient number and the call of the roll was made. By a vote of 176 to 21 the house voted to dispense with further proceedings wider the call, and again the roll was called for a vote on Bland's motion to go into committee of the whole on his seigniorage bill. It resulted—yeas, 157; nays, 4—the smallest yote of the day.

Mr. Bland moved that the house adjourning over tomorrow, Washington's birthday. This evoked a passionate declaration from Mr. Bland that until the democratic party could provide a quorum to do business it should not fritter away its time on holidays. He then made the point that in the absence of a quorum motion to adjournover a day was not in order, which point the speaker sustained, and put Mr. Bland's motion. A division showed 19 to 56 in favor of adjournment, and when Mr. Reed celled for tellers Mr. Mallory, democrat of Florida, demonded the yeas and nays and they were ordered. The motion was asgreed to—yeas, 180; nays, 104—and at 4 o'clock p. m. the house adjourned. The Same Thing Over Again.

OWN UP TO PERJURY.

Four of Howard's Witnesses Admit That They Swore Falsely.

THREE MURDERS ALSO WERE PLANNED

Brown, the Young London Clerk, Was to Be One Victin.

THEY PLOTTED TO BREAK JAIL

The Story They Tell Has an Improbable Sound in Some Respects, but It Excites the Crowd's Sympathy.

Jackson, Tenn., February 21 .- (Special.)-Another dark chapter was added to the checkered career of G. F. B. Howard, alias E. Ross, Joseph Leger and William Lord Moore, preacher, rail oad president and swindler, when four of the witnesses in his late trial, E. H. Brockaway, William J. Gleason, Edgar E. Smith and George H. Heatley, appeared in the federal court this afternoon. They publicly confessed that they had perjured themselves when they swore in Howard's behalf. The young men told their pitiful story of how, in answer to a want advertisement in The New York World in December for young men to go to the southwest, they first met Howard in New York and his subsequent treatment of them. The sympathy of the crowd went out toward the poor wretches when Heatly told of the plot which the wily swindler had concocted in jail and advised three of them to get Brockaway out of their number and out of the way for confessing.

The listening crowd was struck dumb with astonishment. Continuing he told of Howard's plot to furnish them tools to break jail and advised them to make way with Fred Brown, the English clerk William Lord Moore, whose testimony was so damaging to Howard, and also to slay E. S. Bullock, the attorney who so ably prosecuted Howard in behalf of the government. This would have occurred had not the plot been discovered and he (Howard) moved to a steel cage. The witneses also told how Howard had intimidate... them. after he had brought them to Jackson by laying a pistol on the table and stating that he would kill any one who interefered with his case. In this way he browbeat the young men until they were in his power. The confession of the witnesses. their straight tale and the corroborating evidence have created much sympathy for them. Sentence has been temporarily withheld and it is now quite certain that the government intends bringing the famous orisoner from Columbus, O., prison, where he is under nine years' sentence, back to Jackson and try him for this last crime. He Has to Make Good Some Cash Which a Stranger Raised. Greensboro, N. C., February 21.—(Special.) Last week aman named H. P. Hevenor, a well-dressed cripple, came to town. He claimed to be from New York, and said his business was getting up industrial issues for local papers. He was a smooth talker, an all-round newspaper man, a brilliant writer and the samples of work he has done did not take long to induce Mr. Barber, editor of The Patriot, at this place, to agree to allow him the use of his paper for his purpose. The chamber of commerce was so well pleased with the scheme that it readily en-dorsed him and in a short time he secured some very good contracts, and would un-doubtedly have made a good thing of it but for an interference. He had collected several dollars in advance and was getting on Sunday, however, Mr. Barber saw in The Lynchburg News that the police of that city were after a man named H. P. Hevenor who had been swindling people in that neighborhood by passing himself off as an agent for Lynchburg papers. Mr. Barber at once telegraphed The News to know it the report was correct. Receiving an af-firmative answer, he at once saw Hevenor and showed him the telegram. The young but admitted that he got on a drunk while but admitted that he got on a grunk while in Lynchburg and that he did not know what he did while there.

Mr. Barber then advised him to turn over the money which he had collected and skip town. Hevenor replied that he had already spent part of the money and that he was unable to make it good. Mr. Barber agreed that if he would leave town at once he might keep enough of the money to pay his railroad fare. This was done and the editor of The Patriot is out a nice little sum of money, which he has to refund.

FOUR ARRESTS FOR MURDER.

Governor Tillman Is Informed That Roberson's Slayers Are in Custody. Columbia, S. C., February 21 .- (Special.)-Governor Tillman today received a telegram from Solicitor Nelson at Lexington stating that four persons had been arrested charged with the murder of the negro, Gage Roberson, near Gaston Friday night. The governor will confer with Solicitor Nelson tomorrow on the subject. The murdered negro was a reputable and an honest citizen and there is considerable indignation expressed at his murder. It is said that Roberson was told by a son of Mr. Wesley Hawsey that he "would fix him in a few days." The murder is described as brutal. Roberson fell dead in his wife's arms from bullets fired by masked white men. Governor Tillman today received a telegram

They Are Inspecting the Great Fruit Inter ests-The Hearing in the Railroad Case Has Been Postponed.

Macon, Ga., February 21.—(Special.)—The Georgia state Baptist convention will meet in annual session at the First Baptist church in Macon April 3d. It is expected that there will be at least 500 delegates present and that many visitors. The con-gregation of the First Baptist church is making extensive preparations to receive and entertain the delegates and visitors. Rev. George R. McCall, of Macon, is secretary of the convention. The Constitution today obtains the following information which will be of much interest to all who expect to attend the convention.

The railroads offer to delegates attending the convention one fare going and one-third of the highest limited fare returning on the certificate plan. These rates apply from all points in the state of Georgia. Delegates attending this convention, points at which through tickets to Macon cannot be procured, must purchase tickets to Atlanta, Albany or Jesup, as may be most convenient, and repurchase to Macon, taking receipts in both instances. Certificates will be becomed for taking receipts. cates will be honored for return passage from Macon and other points designated, if presented on or before April 12, 1894. Each person must purchase a first-class ticket to Macon and request the ticket agent to issue him a certificate of such purchase. On returning, the agents at Macon will sell tickets at one-third the regular rate to those holding certificates signed by the ticket agents at the starting point, and countersigned by the secretary of the convention. Persons attending the convention, and desiring to get the benefit of reduced rates, must comply with the terms set forth.

Immense New Orchards. Within the past few days several parties from the west have gone down the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad for the purpose of buying ands to set out fruit trees. About a year and a half ago a bureau of immigration was organized, and systematic effort has been made to induce northern and western fruit growers and farmers to settle along the line. The result of the effort has been the organization of one orchard company, which purchased 800 acres and set out 50,000 trees and vines, another which purchased 1,500 acres and is setting out 30,000 trees and vines and is recognized. 00 trees and vines and is preparing to erect a canning and crate factory, and another company is negotiating for 1,500 acres of land on which it is proposed to plant 100,000 trees and vines. Besides these companies, a number of individuals who have en attracted to this section, have pur-ased lands and are improving them. Negotiations are pending for the establishment of two German colonies, who will each take and improve from 2,000 to 3,000 acres. The owners of large tracts of land which have been milled and turpentined, are clearing up forms and planting them. p farms and planting them in fruits, the object of showing projectors what their lands are capable of producing, and thus finding a sale for them. The adaptability of lands along the line of the Georgia buthern has been extensively advertised, and hundreds of inquiries regarding them number of excursion parties are being orare being received and answered, while a ganized in the northwest with a vie thoroughly inspecting the country. There are now about 500,000 peach trees and grape vines planted along the line of the road, which, within three years will produce annually 1,000 cars of fruit.

The Hearing Postponed.

Next Saturday was the time set by Judge C. C. Smith, of the Ocmulgee circuit, to hear the petition of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit Company, of Baltimore, for the removal of Receiver W. B. Sparks, of the Georgia Southern and Florida road, or the appointment of a co-receiver. The Constitution's correspondent was informed today that the time for the hearing has been postponed. AGENCIES TO BE SEVERED.

Receiver Harris Has Enough of the Joint Business and Draws Out.

Athens, Ga., February 21 .- (Special.)-The Mscon and Northern and Northeastern rail-roads for the past three years will be severed next Saturday and the Northeastern will return to its old depot on Hull severance of the joint agency comes about by virtue of a disagreement between the two roads in regard to freight storage.

A short while since the Macon and Northern made a motion to sever the joint agency, but Judge Speer decided that the agency should continue as it had in the past.

A few days since affairs reached a point where the Macon and Northern made an-other movement towards the severing of the joint agency, and succeeded.

The order of Judge Speer in the last case was that it appearing to him that Mr. R. K. Reaves, state agent of the Northeastern road, had refused to store freight of the Macon and Northern road in his ware-house, which was reached by the terminal facilities of the Macon and Northern road, was ordered that the Macon and N ern receiver could at will dissovle the joint gency between the two roads. So Receiver Harris declared the agency issolved and so notified Mr. Reaves. Mr.

It appears from the statement of the Macon and Northern authorities that Mr. Reaves refused to store guano in his ware-house in this city, and that hence they did not desire to allow his road any further

Mr. Reaves says that he never refused the Macon and Northern this request to store guano in his warehouse and that at present that road has some stored at that place. He says that he cannot see where a railroad has the right to demand the privilege of storing guano in a private warehouse, which does not belong to him, but to the Reaves Warehouse Company. At any rate he does not propose to fuss over the matter, but to accept the severing over the matter, but to accept the severing of the joint agency very willingly.

Mr. Reaves says he wil move his business to the old Northeastern depot, which he will fix up in a way that will be satisfactory to all the patrons of the road. He will fix up the grounds leading to the depot and will make everything convenient and comfortable.

Mr. J. S. Crews will have charge of the corps of workers at the Northeastern depot, while Mr. R. W. Sizer will be chief cierk under Agent McMaster, at the Macon and Northern depot.

The prisoners were gone only a few moments when their absence was detected. At once the jailer, with a large posse, started in hot pursuit. Seven of them were caught almost within the city limits and were remanded to jail, after which the chase was renewed, but no new capture has been made.

Probably the most dangerous characted who is yet at large is James Rutledge, who is extensively known as a "green goods" dealer. He was held under two indictments for forgery and one for cheating and swinding. Much indignation exists among the citizens on account of the inferiority of the jail. It cost $8,000 and was built three years ago. It is represented to be built of chilled steel and it was claimed that an escape was an impossibility. represented.

The farmers occupied the time of the conference and gave, in their own way, an account of their condition and what they hoped to do in view of it. They spent no time in looking to the past or in fault-finding, but agreed that the thing for them to do was to lend every energy in receiving education, property and practical religion. They resolved to lengthen their schools by subscription, to provide better teachers and schoolhouses and to get their best educated men and women to come to their relief instead of remaining so largely in the cities. They admitted the almost universal mortgage system and the evil influence of the one-room cabin, but they said great changes for the better had been wrought since the beginning of these conferences, and they expressed their purpose to go home and buy land, raise their own food, work winters as well as summers, practice economy and cultivate the good will of their white enighbors. Great plainness was used in speaking of their moral and religious condition and all agreed to draw sharp lines between the virtuous and the immoral, to tolerate no wrong doing on the part of leaders, especially ministers and teachers. A large number of women held a meeting of their own.

Many noted southern educators are present who will hold a conference tomorrow.

Burglars Caught.

CHEAP SHOW TICKETS CAUSE TROUBLE

Refractory Prisoner Hurts Himself Trying to Escape-Other Police Items of Interest.

A band of burglars composed entirely of mutes is a criminal novelty that but few cities can show. The Atlanta police have just succeeded in capturing such a band and sending its members to jail.

Two of the mutes, Ed Holden and John Ellison, were caught Saturday night late. It has since developed that they were but half of the band and that two of their as sociates had escaped. One of these, Cecil Smith, was captured yesterday. The fourth man has not yet been found.

Four singular burglars are a strange set. The Atlanta police have never had to deal The Atlanta police have never had to deal with such curious speaimens of the criminal genius. All of them are young and well educated. When questioned in writing yesterday each of them made fluent answers by rapidly penciling what he wanted to say on a piece of paper. They were very communicative and wrote answers to every question put to them. They are just from Carle Spring. Ga where they were tought. Cave Spring, Ga., where they were taught eighteen years of age. Cecil Smith is three warrants have been sworn out against them by Patrolman Stallings who found them breaking open a door just in the rear of the Kiser building. They admitted their guilt, and said they did it because they had no money and could get no work. It could no money and could get no work. It could not be proven that Smith was inside the store, and he was released.

Mr. J. M. McLaughlin, a citizen on the shady side of forty-five, wanted to go to the opera house last night and thereby hangs a tale of woe. He went into a restau-rant near the corner of Decatur and Ivy street and ate some ovster soup. While there three young men, two brothers named Hale and a young man named Roberts en-

The young men had some tickets to the show at the Marietta street opera house snow at the Marietta street opera model hast night, and McLaughlin begun negotiations for them. A trade was made, and it seems that McLaughlin paid for the tickets in drinks. It developed that the tickets were not good, and Mr. McLaughlin had the young men arrested. They told the story at police headquarters and were released en collateral security. Captain Thompson then ordered that Mr. McLaughlin be arthen ordered that Mr. McLaghilli be al-fested for furnishing whisky to minors, all of the young men being under twenty-one years of age. He was very indignant when Patrolmen Mewborn and Lampkin took him in charge, and said he had never been arrested before in all his life. The case will be tried in police court this af-ternoon. The charge of furnishing whisky to minors is a state offense.

For more than a year Chief of Detectives For more than a year Chief of Detectives whigh has been looking for a man whom he located yesterday in the Texas state asylum. The man of his search was Bill Mitchell, for many years a saloonist in Atlanta. Mitchell had frequent trouble while living in Atlanta and was often in bolice court. police court.

out six months before he left Atlanta, hearly two years ago, he was indicted by the DeKalb county grand jury for violating the whisk law. His surety was Mr. J. G. Sprayberry, a Decatur street saloonist, who was Mitchell's former friend. When Mitchell disappeared, Sprayberry asked Captain Wright to 'locate him, and this he has been trying to do for longer than a year. Through letters to the heads of police, Chief Wright traced Mitchell from city to city, and last week he gathered information that Mitchell had been in Austin, Tex. He wrote there and yesterday received a reply saying that Mitchell was sent to the Texas state asylum in May last. The search has ceased, Bloomer Mathis, a Decatur street tough who is arrested on an average of twice a month, was arrested last night by Patrolman Grant, for cheating a negro woman.

Mathis accompanied the officer reluctantly, and just as he reached the door at police headquarters, he gave a jerk and threw himself loose from the officer's grasp. The jerk was so sudden that it threw him down with great violence. His head struck the corner of the granite steps and a gash was sufficiently and the steps and a gash was struck that the steps and a gash was strucked to the step and cut an inch or two in length. He was knocked senseless for the moment and blood flowed from the cut.

A SAD DEATH. One of the Oldest Deputies in the Revenue Service Dies Yesterday. United States Marshal Dunlap received the news of the death of Mr. Ira C. Camp-bell yesterday at Royston in Franklin county.

Mr. Campbell was the oldest and most reliable deputy in the revenue service of this district and his death will prove a sad loss to the department. For sixteen years he served during successive terms of l'itzsimmons. Longstreet, Bryant, Nelms, Buck and under Marshal Dunlap up to date. He was always loeked upon as the most discreet and bravest officer in the department, and figured in numerous hair-breadth escapes.

and figured in numerous half-besets to capes.

Possibly the most notable capture he made was in 1885, when, single-handed, he brought to justice McCoy, the Walker county desperado. McCoy had killed several men, and was wanted at the time for the murder of Marshal Kelley. The struggle between McCoy and Campbell was desperate and is well remembered by some of the older deputies.

Marshal Campbell for the past two months had been off duty and was in bad health for some time.

BUILDING LAWS SENT TO COMMITTEES

They Will Be Given a Careful Considers tion and Then Brought Back to the Council for Final Action.

The general council convened in adjourned session vesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the proposed building laws.

Immediately after Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles called the meeting to order Clerk Woodward read a paper from Mayor Goodwin, calling upon the council to consider the application of the Pryor street residents for vitrified brick paving on that street. There was a large delegation of Pryor street people present when the council convened, and the reading of the paper from the mayor made it apparent that they were there for the purpose of asking the council to take up that work at once, and not delay it as the resolution adopted at the last meeting of the council contemplated. "As I understand it," said Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles, "this meeting is an adjourned meeting and the matters that were pending before the last meeting will have to be tak-en up first. Then, after we dispose of that we can consider anything else."

Mr. Peters was the first member to secure the floor, and in doing so said that he had a resolution he wished the cierk to read. The resolution was passed to the clerk and was:

clerk and was:

"Resolved, That the subject of laws regulating the erection of buildings in Atlanta be referred to G. L. Uorrman, C. E. Kauffman and F. A. Pittman to report for consideration of this council a system of rules for the erection of buildings in the interest of the protection of the people against canger from falling walls and against fire losses. rs. each of the parties named above to be paid $50 for his services, the sum of $100 to be paid $50 for his services, the sum of $100 to be paid from the contirgent fund.

"Resolved, also, That the city engineer and chief of the fire department be added to the committee."

Mr. Peters spoke in favor of his resolution, declaring that it would be a preclear.

tion, declaring that it would be a useless waste of time for the members of the general council to listen to the reading of the code of laws as they now appeared

"I think," said Mr. Beattie, "that the best thing we can do is to refer the papers to Wilson, the engineer, who drew them, and let him and the city engineer look over

"We, the members of the genenarl council, know very little what we need in the was of building law, and I offer as a substitute for Mr. Peters's resolution, that we refer the whole matter back to the committee which framed it, and to Mr. Wilson and the city engineer with Mr. Pittman, one of the building inspectors on it.

"I think," said Mr. Stockdell, "that the Ing inspectors on it."

"I think," said Mr. Stockdell, "that the whole paper should go to the new members of the council as all of the old Lembers have heard it read."

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Howell, "that the whole matter should be inferred to a committee of this body made up of the most practical members we have; of members who know what we want when the question is approached. I don't think we have any right to pay out any sum of the city's money for these gentlemen named to look into and make laws for us, when we are here to make the laws ourseives. That is our duty and we have no right to delegate it to others. Let a committee be appointed and then if we need the assistance of the gentlemen mentioned we can call them in."

"I should think," said Mr. Stockdell, "that the best way to dispose of this entire matter would be to refer it to the board of fire masters, the building inspectors and the city engineer and I move that the estime user to the said of the control of the property of the control of the property of the property of the masters, the building inspectors and the city engineer and I move that the estime user to the part of the control of the control of the property of the control of the property of the pro masters, the building inspectors and the city engineer and I move that the entire question be referred to those parties with a request that the papers be examined and that a report be made at the earliest possible moment." The motion was adopted and the question of the building laws was, for the time being, disposed of.

The Pryor Street Paving.

The Pryor Street Paving.

Mr. Stockdell presented a resolution reciting the legislation which had taken place at the last meeting of the general council relative to the paving of Pryor street with vitrified brick and in the last clause of the resolution said:

"Resolved, That the advertisements heretofore ordered by this council be continued in full force and effect until Monday, the 19th of March, 1894, at which time the bids for paving Pryor street will be orened." for paving Pryor street will be opened. for paving Pryor street will be opened."
The resolution was adopted and the council adjourned, but just as the Pryor street residents who had come in to be present at the hearing of the case were in the act of leaving Dr. Powell entered the council chamber. The doctor combatted the idea of danger to any one near his building by the pilaster and the entire matter was referred to the fire department committee.

The Boxes Back Again. The Boxes Back Again.

All of the fire alarm boxes, which were injured during the electrical storm some two or three weeks ago, have been returned from the factory way up east, and have been put in place again. This gives that section of the city along Peachtree and the streets running parallel with it, and those crossing it beyond Cone street, the same fire alarm system that was in the same fire alarm system that was in vogue long ago. The boxes look better for the little recreation and rest they have had since they went on their trip east,

Those Crematories. The indications are that the Dixon Crematory Company, of Toledo, O., will accept the counter proposition made by the city council at the last meeting, and do the work in the manner suggested. The papers will go before the aldermanic board tomorrow afternoon at their regular neet-ing, and if the board concurs in the "gree-ment endorsed by the general courcil, the work will be commenced at once. That means that the Dixon company will ex-pend $10,000 in the city of Atlanta on the faith the company has in the merits of

None of the balls struck their mark, and

Dubose got away without being shot. The policemen in that precinct soon learned of the trouble and Sergeant White and Officer Crusselle arrested Moore. Later Patrolman Conn arrested Dubose. The latter was found in the office of his attorney, Mr. Roberts. He had sworn out a peace warrant

Mr. Moore stated to the officers at police headquarters that Dubose was a married man with one child, and that it had come to his ears that he was paying attention to his sixteen-year-old daughter, Katie. It was on account of this that the trouble oc-

The Atlanta boys took a two-hours' practhe stuame beyond and showed up in splendid form. In fact, their superb form would seem to be a sure indicator of certain victory. But the Savannah team has and it is hard to say which is the better team of the two. A matter of interest is that for the first time Atlanta, as a city, is represented by a football team. Heretofore the opposing teams have always represent-ed colleges; in this instance, one team will battle for Atlanta and the other will seel to woo victory and have her perch upon the historic battlements of the Forest City. While many grateful patients gladly testify to being cured or benefited of various eye troubles and diseases of the nervous system, the cases selected for publication are a few of those, in different localities, who had cross eyes, not because this deformity is treated any more successfully than others, but because it is such a plain defect that there could be no deception practiced.

Eight Years Old.

Bertie, the eight-year-old son of R. E. Cagle, of 115 McDaniel street, had been cross-eyel from birth which caused him to have viocent headaches, and his sight was so affected that he was unable to attend school. Dr. Moore made them perfectly straight by his painless method, without the use of ether or chloroform. The little fellow said after the operation that "it didn't hurt a bit." He has not had a headache since, and already his sight is greatly improved.

From Haynes Street. No. 15 came Mary Cook, the thirteen-year-old daughter of I. J. Cook, who has a liquor store at 111 Peters street, both her eyes turned in.

Miss Ida Ledbetter, of 74 Leonard street, was another who had her cross eyes made straight by Dr. Moore's painless method. She had severe headaches. He Is a Printer. Mrs. W. A. Richards, who resides at 181 East North avenue. Her husband is a printer employed by the Franklin Publishing Company, was another whose cross eyes were operated on by Dr. Moore's paincless method. She also had severe headaches.

All Her Life. Mrs. J. W. Holliday, of 4½ Ella street, whose husband is employed in the Telephone Exchange, had been cross-eyed all her life. Dr. Moore made them perfectly straight by his painless method.

Both Eyes Turned. Miss Eugenia Varela, of 335 Rawson street, who had had both her eyes turned from birth, was another who had them straightened by Dr. Moore's painless method.

He Is a Student. Another who had his eyes operated on by Dr. Moore's painless method was L. D. Yeargin, of 100 Mangum street. He is a student at the Southern Shorthand and Business University. His home is at Mays-ville and his father is well known there, being an undertake; and furniture dealer.

ATLANTA, GA., February 22, 1894.

The Exposition and the Council. The joint committee appointed from the exposition directors and the city ouncil met yesterday in the hall of the city council to consider the question of city aid for the great exposition movement in which the whole of the city of Atlanta is so deeply interested.

After a full conference and a lengthy discussion of all the plans proposed the committee from the city council, consisting of ten representative members of that body, unanimously agreed to recommend to the council the purchase, by the city, of the 189 acres of the Piedmont Exposition Company, provided that three-fourths of the $100,000 of the stock of the Piedmont Exposition Company be first contributed by those who now hold it to the Cotton States and International Exposition. This will give the great exposition movement of 1895 the elp of the city to the extent of about $75,000, and the city becomes the posessor of 189 acres of land, already splendidly improved for exposition purposes, and which, after the exposition, will belong to the city as a public park, giving Atlanta a beautiful park on each side of

There are now outstanding bonds and other obligations on the Piedmont Exosition Company to the amount of $165,000, and by the recommendation of the council committee the city assumes that obligation and receives in return the full assets of the Piedmont Exposition Company, including 189 acres of ground with improvements. Since by the condition provided by the council mmittee three-fourths of the stock of the company must first be donated to the new exposition fund before the city takes the property, it will be seen that the city, in taking this three-fourths of stock from the Cotton States and International Exposition, thus subscribes $75,000 to the exposition, which, in turn, agrees to expend not less than $200,000 on improvements of the grounds and for other exposition purposes, all of which improvements will revert to the city after the exposition.

Hence, it will be seen that after donating $75,000 to the exposition the balance between that and the purchase amount of $165,000, which is $90,000, represents the city's investment for 189 acres of land, worth easily $1,000 an acre, and which will be improved by the expenditure of not less than $200,000 by the Cotton States and International Exposition on the grounds and in otherwise developing the exposition.

If, for any reason, the city wishes to realize on its $90,000 investment which remains after its indirect donation to the exposition, it would have 189 acres of splendid property with $200,000 worth of improvements on it from which it could promptly realize twice as much as t paid for it. We hope, however, that after the exposition is over the grounds will be kept as a public park, and we believe that it is the wish of the people that it should be.

There is no other location about Atlanta as suitable for exposition purposes as these grounds, and the approach to them is through the prettiest street, not only in Atlanta, but in the south. Unimproved grounds anywhere else in the county would require an expenditure of not less than $250,000 to obtain the splendid advantages already offered by the old Piedmont grounds.

The Constitution heartily congratulates the committee on the unanimity of its report, and we believe that it will meet with the unanimous approval of the council. The movement is for the benefit of every man, woman and child in Atlanta, and to make it a success the city must do its duty. The council very properly realizes the great importance of the undertaking and the great benefits that will accrue to every interest in Atlanta in its success. The outlook is brilliant and the future s as promising as can be!

A Marked Improvement.

Under the excellent management of Hon. James M. Head The Nashville cican has shown a marked improveent of late. In its issue of yesterday announces the addition of eight co mns to its size, which makes it a sevenan eight-page paper. The activity, prise and liberal spirit of the new management of The American manifests in every column of the paper. It nas always been our impression that Nashville would sustain a first-class morning dafly, and The American, under the new order of things, comes fully up to the expectation of what such a thriv ing and energetic city as Nashville should do in a newspaper way. The American has the best wishes of The Constitution, and we congratulate its management on giving the city of Nashville a paper which proves itself well worthy of the confidence and sup port, not only of the people of Nashville, but of the state.

War on the People's Money.

In the course of some comments on the statement of The New York Times that Mr. Cleveland will surely put his foot on the Bland seigniorage bill and crush the life out of it should it ever get as far as the white house, The Cincinnati Enquirer says:

The Times has made a mistake, or else it is overenthusiastic in this matter of a veto. If Mr. Cleveland's intentions touching silver are as direful as The Times repthe struggle with the silver idea and the silver schemers last summer was final, then the people would do well to examine their pocketbooks and see what kind of money is in them.

The editor of The Enquirer probably has no desire of posing as a prophet, but following hard on the heels of his declaration comes the following press telegram from Washington:

Attorney General Olney today, in reply to a formal request, dated February 17th sent to the secretary of the treasury ar opinion in regard to the legal status of silver certificates, in which he holds as fol "Silver certificates are just what they purport to be on their face and by their terms—that is, they attest the fact that the United States has on deposit so many silver dollars which will be the holder upon the presentation and sur-render of such certificates. If they can be regarded as money at all, it is only be cause the United States agrees to receive for customs, taxes and all publi dues,' and only to that extent and for those specific purposes. In my opinion," the at-torney general adds, "they are not 'lawful money' within the meaning of section 4 the act of June 20, 1874, and section 9 the act of July 12, 1892."

In the twinkling of an eye the whole vast scheme of silver repudiation develops. We have had silver demonetization and are still in the midst of the wreck and ruin that have been caused by that erime. Now, it seems, we are to have silver repudiation.

It is not enough that the people should have their property and their profits destroyed by the contraction in values and prices that has followed the demonetization of silver. The sacrifice of billions of dollars that they have been called on to make has not satisfied the greed of the gold owners and money lenders. The people have been compelled, through fraud and misrepresentation, to submit to the demonetization of silver, and now, by a simpler process, they are to be stripped of a part of the value of the silver that is already coined-the money that they have earned by their enterprise and bought with their labor.

The first step was silver demonetiza tion. The next is silver repudiation.

The scheme has already been prepared for by Attorney General Olney. That official, according to the dispatches, has rendered an opinion, by request of the secretary of the treasury, that silver certificates based on silver dollars are not lawful money.

This opinion, coming from the law officer of the government, is clearly intended to further embarrass the people by casting a suspicion on this particular form of currency, and is well calculated to amaze and paralyze the people.

Senator Allen has introduced, and the senate has passed, a resolution of inonly directed at the attorney general, but under present circumstances this is a meaningless formality. The same power that compelled the senate to demonetize silver can compel it to endorse repudiation.

Never before in the history of the world has an official of any civilized government undertaken to cast a taint or shadow of suspicion on the lawfulness of the money or curency issued by that government. It is a crime so monstrous that the mind recoils from its contemplation.

Light in the East.

Day seems to be breaking in Boston. The business and professional men of that city have at last aroused themselves to the fact that the silver question is not, after all, to be ignored. The situation has caused them to put on their thinking caps. The pressure of the single gold standard has brought them to the point of seriously considering the elements of relief that are to be found in the system of bimetallism.

As a result of this there has been formed in Boston a league for the promotion of bimetallism. Among the names that are atached to the circular sent out by the committee we find the names of many distinguished men, such as E. B. Andrews, Ofiver Ames, Jr., Francis L. Higginson, George F. Hoar, Augustus and Francis Lowell. Charles E. Perkins, Josiah Quincy, Governor Russell, John G. Russell, Frederick J. Stinson, Francis Bartlett, A. Agassiz, William Minot, Jr., John T. Morse, Jr., William W. Crape, Jonathan A. Lane, ex-Governor John D. Long and about one hundred others equally well known. and most of them millionaires.

It is a distinguished list, indeed, and shows beyond all question that the unanswerable logic of bimetallism, as set forth by the most distinguished students of finance in this country and Europe, has had its influence on the Boston

While it is true that the Boston committee declares its purpose to be the promotion of international bimetallism, nevertheless the movement they have undertaken recognizes first of all the principle of bimetallism and the increased use of silver as money. This recognition once given the logic of facts and of the situation may be depended on to do the rest.

For the gentlemen of this committee will be compelled to answer the arguments of the monometallists, and in doing so they must fall back on the unanswerable facts which the free coinage men of this country have collected h support of their position.

Already they have been challenged by Mr. Horace White, of The New York Evening Post. "Do you think it wise for men of your weight in the financial world," plaintively inquires Mr. White, to advocate views at this crisis which will confirm the socialist and populist and anarchist belief that governments can make money out of anything they please; that their business is not to weigh and stamp, but to create and circulate? Do you not think that, in this country, at least, the duty of all intelligent men is to drop this silver business wholly until the late insanity has had time to disappear?"

But the gentlemen who have gone into the bimetallic movement in Boston have the wit to perceive that, however much we may be inclined to drop "the silver business" in this country, the silver business will not drop us. Hence, the fresh impetus given to the most vital and most pressing of all questions by the bimetallic movement in Boston.

The Evening Post pays a tribute to the significance of this movement in the remarks which we have quoted, and it is easy to discover, under the sneer of the allusion to populists, socialists and anarchists, the uneasiness with which the organ of shylockism regards the purpose of the Boston committee. Pushed to explain it, the organ would doubtless assume a bantering air and maintain that it bears no relation to the free coinage movement in this country, which embraces an overwhelming majority of the people; that it appertains solely to international bimetallism. The fact remains, however, that the principle once recognized carries with it all the facts and all the logic by which the free coinage men have made their position absolutely impregnable.

The principle once recognized, the mind is carried irresistibly along the current of history and argument to the inevitable conclusion that it is within the scope and power of this government, by opening its mints to free and unlimited coinage, to create a demand for silver of such proportions as to lift its market price all over the world to the level of its mint price in the United States.

This is why The Evening Post is inclined to gird at the Boston committee Meanwhile, if Mr. Horace White really believes that opposition to gold mono metallism means socialism, populism and anarchy, he will presently be compelled to take shelter in some foreign country where the people do not rule and have no chance of rnling, except by means of a bloody revolution.

Opposition to gold monometallism is simply opposition to business and industrial stagnation, low prices and low wages-opposition to wreck, and ruin, and poverty.

Better Than a Gold Mine.

The holders of Atlanta real estate who are familiar with the history of the city and whose knowledge of the past enafuture, feel confident that their property is far safer and more absolutely certain to enrich them by its steady increase in value than any other investment.

The citizens who have prospered and whose wealth has increased from year to year, are almost without exception men who have put their money into Atlanta dirt and held it, improving their property from time to time to keep pace with the progress of the city. Those who in a period of depression have parted with their real estate have never ceased to regret it.

The country is again on the up grade business is improving, our industries are reviving and the general outlook is brighter. It is clear that city real estate is beginning to feel the touch of returning prosperity, and the man who disposes of it now will make a bad mis-We may look for a rising market in a few months, and town lots and improved property which are not in active demand now will then command prices that will remind us of the doubling and quadrupling of values so frequent in the years preceding the recent financial de-

The terminus of one railroad half a century or so ago is now the center of eleven railroads and of a great transportation system thousands of miles in length, ramifying every section of the country. The little forest village of fifty years ago is now the metropolis of the new south, with 125,000 inhabitants. With such a record, who will be so bold as to mark the boundaries of our onward march?

The owner of Atlanta real estate in these times will hold it if he is a man of good business judgment.

Real estate in a growing city is some thing that cannot be duplicated. Stocks and other property may be wrecked, but Atlanta dirt will go on increasing in value for hundreds of years after some of the biggest industrial and commercial enterprises of today are dead and forgot-Within a few years we shall see 250,000 people within our city limits and suburbs. For all time to come this must be the great interior market, distributing point and commercial and manufacturing center of the south Atlantic mates Every acre of land within three miles of the union depot will eventually yield more than the average gold mine. Pennsylvania has surpassed the greatest of all its long list of republican majorities in the election of a republican congressman at large last Tuesday. The democrats conducted a listless and indifferent campaign, and have all the time conceded the state by an overwhelming najority on account of democratic apathy.

The result is another answer to the alarming shrinkage of values wrought by the single gold standard, throwing, as it has done, hundreds of thousands of people out of employment, clogging the wheels of commerce and depressing business in every part of the union.

Congressional indifference is playing havoe with the party.

ABOUT THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The Savannah Press, replying editorially to a correspondent who claimed that Pike was in the doubtful column on the governorship question, says:

"The people and the papers in and around Barnesville seem to be all one way, and the drift of things is unmistakably towards General Evans. Even the young men in Georgia recognize that this is so, and they accept it as reasonable and proper. Thousands of young men all over Georgia have declared for General Evans, who is deserving and progressive, and who typifies the conservative and enterprising spirit as thoroughly as any man in Georgia. The who criticize him most strongly are not only the people who Mr. Cleveland, as many would like it appear, but the men who were strongest for him are now among those who are his severest critics. The one other place that I have ever seen that could compare with it is the villa of the elder Salvial at Florence. This is situated just outside of Florence and the view of the most beautiful Italian landscape seenery, gardens, fields, villags, villages, hills, vulleys and mountains, including the site or Florence of Florence and the view of the most beautiful Italian landscape scenery, gardens, fields, vilias, viliages, hills, vulleys and mountains, including the site of Florence with its great dome lying saugly ensconced in the valley to the south furnished a picture of nature and art combined which will live through my memory through my whole life time. I went there, of course, with Salvini and the life in that divine spot I found to be beyond anything which I can describe. The villa is a stone mausion of about thirty rooms furnished with all the comforts and conveniences to be found in our best American houses, handsomely furnished throughout, stables, carriage houses, barns and wine mills where is made the purest of wine from grapes of his own culture. All these buildings are situated upon a knoll rising from the carriage entrance of his lands and giving an open view to his broad fields, which are in a high state of cultivation. His garden, for it is all agarden, is about ten acres and surrounded by a stone wall eight feet high and two feet thick and can only be entered at three openings, and these are strongly guarded with iron gates. One of the most interesting features of this lordly manaion, and it is one of the most interesting of its kind in Europe, is the souvenir hall. In this is kept all the gifts which he has received as a tribute to his genius from all the countries in which he has performed during his long professional career. There are statues in marble and bronze, pictures in oil, steel and crayons, medals of all sizes in gold and silver, many miniature models in intricate and original designs made of vivory, gold, silver and mother of pearl, besides hundreds of articles of jewelry rich yes with diamonds, rubbies and sapphires. I couldn't begin to describe them all office things, but I suppose the first cost of them must have been easily several hundred thousands of dollars."

Speaking of the elder Salvini's home life, Mr. Wilkison said: "You sometimes hear that Salvini is penurious. I have heard that said in this country. Well, perhaps that might be true, but I don't believe it is. Still I am certain that it is not true, so far as home life is concerned. He is the prince of entertainers and is never happier than when he has guests under his roof.

Representing the city were wor Goodwin and the members of the cil committee, of which Mayor Pro Broyles was chairman, the other bers being Captain Boyd, Mr. John Comin, from the aldermanic board; Mr. Hinch, of the first ward; Mr. Stockdell, of the second; Mr. Beatle, of the third; Campbell, of the fourth; Mr. Welch. d the fifth; Mr. Harman, of the sixth, and Dr. Nelms, of the seventh. D. Ellis, Mr. H. H. Cabaniss, Mr. H. A Boynton, Dr. H. L. Wilson and Mr W. P. Hill.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Royles, who briefly stated its purpose. He alled upon Captain English as chairman dthe exposition company to make a statedue exposition company to make a statement of the purposes for which they had met Captain English briefly reviewed the limory of the exposition movement, showed what it meant to the city, told of the work that had been done, the subscriptions hat had been received, and of the desire and necessity of the city acting in the most substantial way possible in aid of the exposition movement

The Expesition Proposition. Then Mr. Collier read for Captain English statement which he had prepared, setting

arth the reasons why the city should buy the property of the Piedmont Exposition company for the Cotton States and Inter-actional Exposition Company and showing the great advantages that it would be not only to the exposition of 1825, but to the city of Atlanta. That paper was a concise fultement of the situation and was as fol-lws:

the chy of Atlanta. That paper was a concise sultement of the situation and was as follows:

The committee from the Cotton States has international Exposition Company begave to submit a new of the reasons why he city of Atlanta shound buy the property of the Piedmont Exposition Company arough the Cotton States and International Exposition Company arough the Cotton States and International Exposition Company and the States and International Exposition Company and States and International Exposition Company to the extent of the discount of the subscribed subscribed for the discount of the subscribed in any other way, and thus set that much help subscribed towards holding the exposition, by means of these subscriptions and donations, which they could not set that much help subscribed towards holding the exposition, by means of these subscriptions and donations, which they could not have got in any other way.

Secause the present exposition grounds have had over two hundred thousand dolling spent upon them in preparing the same for exposition purposes, and in our opinion is will cost to least $150,000 to put any other place in as good condition for holding the exposition as these grounds are how in.

Lecause of the paved streets and roads already in existence leading to the present resumes, towit: The Boulevard, Pledmont avenue, Peachtree street and West Peachtree street and West Peachtree street ind Wilson avenue.

Because of the superior transportation facilities already in existence, to-wit: The Auritius failured, will put temporary track all about over the grounds to facilitate the hauling of building inaterial, exhibits, etc. The sectic line on the Boulevard, the electric lines on Piedmont avenue, Peachtree street and, with slight extensions, on West Peachtree street, would be available. It would be impossible between now and the holding of the exposition will in a large measure, depend upon proper transportation facilities in order to any other point beaution becomes a surful propertion to build and sec with our new and magnificent waterworks, which assures us an abundant supply of pure water for all purposes; and the necessary legislation has been had to place these grounds under police surveillance.

"S. Some of the most beautiful parts of the city are necessarily traversed in getting to and from the Piedmont park, which would give the visitor a good impression of the city. Many of the streets and roadways are paved with asphait, chert and beigian block, extending in that direction.

"I t will enable the Cotton States and International Exposition Company to make a success which is now hanging in the balance. It will not only secure the $50,000 or more which the city would be thus enabled to legally contribute, but it would also enable the city to, in this way, get more than actual value received. Many of our citizens will subscribe to the new company because their subscriptions will be used in putting several hundred thousand dollars additional improvements on property which will thereafter belong to the city. We know they would not do this if the improvements were to be upon the grounds of a private company.

"S. One of the many benefits to this city would be the erection of a magnificent auditorium for the accommodation of conventions and all large public gatherings, which we believe would make Atlanta. the convention city of the south, and would annually contribute thousands of dollars to her revenue.

nually contribute thousands of dollars to her revenue.

"9. Besides, it will equalize both sides of the city by putting a public park on the north side; there already being a magnificent park on the south side. The north side has long been promised a park and we know of no other available spot of land sufficiently large that could now be gotten, even at double the price of this, and the land will continue to enhance in value and thus become a very valuable asset to the tity.

thus become a very valuable asset to the city.

"10. The city council has already recognized this pressing necessity and we believe has secured the necessary legislation authorizing it to purchase the park. A large number of our representatives in council have been seeking an opportunity to give the north side of the city a park and now the opportunity has fairly presented itself for them to fulfill their promise.

sented itself for them to fulfill their promise.

"II. Above everything else that has been mentioned the purchase of these grounds by the city will enable the exposition to become a success and will give hundreds of our mechanics and laboring men, who are among our best citizens and are now out of employment, immediate work and an opportunity to earn a living for themselves and families.

"12 After this exposition gets well and an opportunity to earn a living for themselves and families.

of employment, immediate work and an opportunity to earn a living for themselves and families.

"12. After this exposition gets well under way and the tide of prosperity begins to return Atlanta will reap the first fruits and will be in shape to profit by the very first movement in this direction.

"13. The plan is for the Piedmont Exposition Company to sell its grounds and improvements to the Cotton States and International Exposition Company for $185,000, that being the amount of its bonded debt, preferred and common stock. The new company to sell it to the city for park purposes for $165,000, and the Cotton States and International Exposition Company to obtain subscriptions and donations of the individual holders of the securities of the old company. No individual is to make any profit out of it. No scheme or deal or profit, direct or indirect, will accrue to any one except the new company, which we all are so anxious to help.

"14. This is a movement of the people, in mass meeting assembled, for the benefit of the city and all of its citizens, and we can, therefore, confidently look to the representatives of the people to liberally aid and foster the movement in every legal and proper way. While large subscriptions have been and will be secured from private citizens should furnish all the funds for this public purpose, when it is admitted net to be a private enterprise, but solely for the public good, and unless the representatives of the people cordially and liberally co-operate failure is inevitable.

"Captain English said that the street known as Emma street, is now graded, which is sixty feet wide and connects with Bleckley avenue, gives a direct line from the Piedmont grounds to the Georgia Pacific, Western and Atlantic and East Tennessee. These roads could put a double track on these streets and this, with the cilic, Western and Adantic and base fell-nessee. These roads could put a double track on these streets and this, with the Richmond and Danville and the electric lines, would give all the transportation nec-essary. He had been told by competent engineers that two lakes of thirty acres each could be put in the park."

Those Who Spoke. Those Who Spoke.

The captain then repeated the importance for immediate action and showed that the Piedmont exposition grounds were the only practical grounds for the holding of the exposition. He showed how. "Substantially," he said, "the company acts the city to purchase the property for $165,000, about $50,000 of it to be paid in cash and the other to be deferred." He said that if this was done the exposition could get to this was done the exposition could get to this was done the exposition could get to work at once.

Mr. Collier, President Hemphill, Mr. Inman, Mr. Howell, Dr. Spaiding and Mr. Chamberlin made strong talks, in which they emphasized what the exposition is sure to be to the city, then the fact that the site had not been determined upon until after the question had been thoroughly canvassed for thirty days by the exposition company through their committees, and emphasized that it was the most desirable site which any exposition of any size has perhaps ever had. Each one of the speakers told of the great good which the exposition would do the city and its people; how, to begin with, it will give work to many o begin with, it will give work to many of those who need it; how the preparations of the exposition itself will help the city in a thousand ways; and then how the exposi-tion, bringing in its visitors not only from all parts of the country, but from all parts of the world, will be most valuable to the city and everybody in it.

to the city and everybody in it. Mayor Goodwin Favors It. One of the earliest speakers was Mayor Goodwin. The mayor expressed his heart-iest approval of the exposition and manifested that great good would result from it. He said that he had taken the most conservative view of the matter, as he thought it was his duty as a city official. He thought that Atlanta as a city should do everything possible to aid the exposition movement and whatever the city would decide on he felt it would be right and it would meet with his hearty approval.

His speech showed that the mayor is not only in favor of the exposition, but is an enthusiast on the subject and that he can be relied upon to do everything in his power to help along the great movement.

The City Has the Right. The City Has the Right.

Councilman Beatle wanted the opinion of the city attorney as to the legal right of the city to purchase the land. city to purchase the land.

Judge Anderson, responding, said that the city unquestionably had the right to acquire lands for park purposes.

At the conclusion of the talk Councilman

John Welsh, of the fifth ward, presented the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this committee recommend the proposition with a favorable re-port and recommend that a sub-committee of three from the council committee be appointed to investigate and perfect a plan for arranging the details of accepting the offer of the Piedmont Exposition Company, if it can be legally done."

Councilman Beatle didn't want the resolution voted on at once, although he thought the plan a remarkably admirable one, and the motion of Mr. Stockdell providing for a night session was adopted. Unanimously Favored the Proposition. But after the meeting of the council yes-terday afternoon, which was called for another purpose, the members of the commit-tee all being present, held a meeting and unanimously, without a dissenting voice, adopted a motion to recommend to the council the purchase of the Piedmont Exposition

Company property for $165,000.

Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles stated the object of the meeting and said that as the members of the committee were present the question might be disposed of at once.

Mr. Stockdell moved that the city purchase from the stockholders of the Piedmont Exposition Company the Piedmont park for the sum of $165,000. At the saine time he stated that it was well tinderstood that the stockholders of the company would relinquish or give to the city $75,000 of the bonds of the Piedmont Exposition Company, which would, of course, reduce the amount of money the city would have to pay out before acquiring the property, which is worth at least a quarter of a million dol-

There was no discussion on the motion and it was adopted without a dissenting

That means unquestionably the approval cil. However, so far as is known every member of that body will favor the plan, and it is not too much to say that in all probability it will meet with the unanimous approval of the council just as it meets with the unanimous approval of the people of Atlanta.

Captain English Tells What It Means. "What does it mean? Why," said Cap-tain J. W. English, in giving a brief resume of the situation after the action of the council had been communicated to him, "it means that if there were any question of the success of the exposition it has been removed. It means that the city, in a plain, business transaction, secures a very valuable piece of property at considerably less than its real worth, and yet is able to give through this research with the control of t through this purchase very substantial aid to the exposition movement. The property worth easily $250,000.
"As you know," continued the captain,

"this movement is not a movement of indi-viduals, and there are absolutely no individual interests to be subserved. It is a movement of the people of Atlanta. It be-gan at a meeting of citizens at which, un-fortunately, I was unable to be present. That meeting was the outgrowth of the be lef which a good many of our best citizens had that something should be done to pro-vide means for giving employment to the unemployed which we, as individuals, were unable to give. I had talked it over with Mr. Inman and other gentlemen, and they all thought an exposition of the kind determined upon would do this. A committee comprising many of the most prominent gentlemen of Atlanta, was appointed, and that committee, acting all the time for the people of the city, mapped out the plans for the proposed exposition and has labored earnestly to make it a success.

"While we have said nothing about it in the public prints, you know that we have already a very good percentage of the stock of the exposition subscribed for. This action of the city will be of very great advan tage to us in every way now. As soon a this is endorsed and adopted by the counci we will inaugurate a thorough and syste matic canvass of the city to complete the subscriptions of stock, which I have no doubt will be done in a very short time. Then we are in shape, legally, to begin work.

"We believe that this $200,000 starter will mean ultimately the expenditure of a mill-ion and a half or two millions of dollars on the exposition. We trust there will be some way for the state to give aid and we are confident that the national government will come to our assistance with a government building and an exhibit, and also with a good cash contribution. But once before kind. We believe that it is time that the tion and encouragement from the national government, and I, for one, see no reason why we should not expect it to be given. We already have promise of aid at Washington, and we have assurances of the most practical kind that every state in the south and all the countries to the south of us which we expect to interest will take substantial part in the affair.

"What it will mean to Atlanta you can readily see. It means practically every thing. It means that we will be in a posi tion to catch the first favorable trade wind in the return of prosperity, which is boun to come to the entire country, and that our own city and our own state and our siste many ways. And now we must all of us work together and pull together for At-

Ed Cason to Carry the Lost Wan to Murphy, N. C., Today.

HIS HOME ON THE MAP

And by Means of the Lines on It He Traced His Route from North Carolina to Atlanta-He Is David Drown.

In the genial company of Detective Ed Cason, David Drown, the man at the hospital who once was lost but now is found, will leave for Murphy, N. C., this morning. Chief Connoily decided yesterday to send Drown to Murphy, where the unfortunate man says he has a stock of medicines, four horses and a wagon. Apprehensive that man says he has a stock of medicines, four horses and a wagon. Apprehensive that some misadventure might befall Drown, who is by no means as vigorous mentally as he should be, if he were allowed to go alone, the chief resolved to send him home in the care of an officer. Detective Cason will place Drown safely in the hands of his friends.

There now seems to be no doubt of the stranger being David Drown, formerly of Winston, N. C. The name is pronounced "Drone." Mr. D. L. Reynolds, of Asheville, says that the picture published in Sunday Constitution resembles Drown in every feature and he is morally certain that it is his.

A curious coincidence has happened in the course of the efforts to establish the strange man's identity. He had not been at the hospital a week when it was said that he was a man named Canada, who traded horses and sold medicine. Several communications were received at the Grady. communications were received at the Grady hospital and at The Constitution office sug-gested that the man must be Canada. The patient always denied this, isowever. Now it transpires that he is not Canada, but is a former business partner of Canada's and was with him at Asheville, N. C., and other places in North Carolina. Mr. Reynolds, of Asheville, says that Drown and Canada were at that place together. and canada were at that place together.

Drown has grown exceedingly impatient to leave the hospital. He is restive after over five weeks' confinement, and declared yesterday morning that he would not stay another day. He was so determined in his purpose that he was sent to Chief Connolly's office. He seemd much brighter than on last Saturday and talked more intelligently of himself.

On a map hanging on the walls of Chief On a map hanging on the walls of Chief-Connolly's office Drown pointed out the route over which he had traveled in coming to Atlanta. He was unable to tell about it in words so the chief could understand, but he illustrated it by means of the rail-way lines marked on the map in a way that the chief thoroughly comprehended. He traced the railroad line from Murphy, N. C., to Marietta, Ga., and by gesture he made the chief understand that he changed cars at this place. He was able to commu-

made the chief understand that he changed cars at this place. He was able to communicate to the chief that his money and other property was near Murphy and that he was anxious to go there at once.

The chief agreed to furnish him an escort, to which he agreed, but said he could go by himself. Detective Cason, who has taken an interest in the case from beginning to end, was detailed to go with him. It is expected that transportation will be furnished the man free. A day or so ago Superintendent Beauprie, of the East Tennessee road, very generously offered to provide transportation for the man and officer over his line to any point that the chief might wish to send him.

It will occur at the Girls' High school, in Maxion hall, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. under the direction of Professor Benjamin C. Davis.

under the direction of Professor Benjamin C. Davis.

The young ladies in charge of the programme have made a special effort to secure the very best talent in the city, and the audience will agree tonight as to the happy manner in which they have succeeded.

After a short sketch of the association, reviewing the work which has been accomplished, and setting forth the high purposes which have called it into being, an original poem will be read by Miss Julia Riordan, one of the brightest and most accomplished young ladies in the city.

A vocal solo by Mr. Sam Burbank, a plano solo by Professor Maier, a recitation by Mr. Ed Brown, in his cieverest style, a solo by Miss Bessie Pierce and another by Mr. William Riordan, will form a part of the evening's entertainment, and give an idea of the pleasure in store for those who may wish to attend.

The programme will conclude with one of Mr. W. D. Howels's inimitable farces; this will be one of the mest arausing features of the evening.

Browning hall tonight will, no doubt, be crowded to overflowing. As a compliment to the ladies interested in the work who have undertaken this noble crusade in behalf of woman, everybody in Atlanta should patronize their enterprise. The association is one that is rooted in the deepest interest of this city, and one that fully deserves to partake of its prosperity.

A PICTURE FOR THE ADDRESS.

Chief Connolly Receives a Novel Let-ter Through the Mails.

ter Through the Mails.

Chief Connolly received a novel letter yesterday. It was from Mr. A. B. Watts, of Lumpkin, Ga., and was not so remarkable in the nature of its contents as for its unique address.

The address was a picture of Chief Connolly which recently appeared in The Constitution, and just beneath it was printed the words, "Atlanta, Ga." Although the postman had nothing to guide him but the well-known features of Atlanta's police chief, he had no difficulty in conveying the letter to the person for whom it was intended.

The idea was tried by a New York news-tended.

The idea was tried by a New York newspaper sometime ago. Pictures of a number of prominent people were posted on the backs of envelopes and sent, without any other address, through the mails. Among those to whom letters were sent were Mayor Gilroy, Lillian Russell, Richard Croker, Dr. Talmage and others. The letters reached their destination in every single instance. their destination in every single ins It worked very successfully in the of Chief Connolly.

Overcoats

It's not our way of doing business, carrying over one season's goods till the next-we'd rather cut off all profit and part of the actual manufacturing cost and sell the wares in the season for which they were made. Here are a lot of Overcoats awaiting purchasers at almost half actual value. You need one. We'd rather have money. Let's make a trade-you'll gec the best of the bargain.

Suits

How about a Suit? A new one, fashionable in cut. materials of the very best grades, tailored in the best shape, and—the price down to the very lowest point ever touched. That in a few words describes our stock of Suits. No matter how fastidious or hard to please you may be, you'll find dozens of styles in our stock which you'd gladly own. The prices of all have been reduced-some to almost one-half.

Trousers

Odd Trousers, $5 the pair-that't our stronghold just at present. We know you can't buy a pair of material like it in any shop in this country for less than $7.50all other styles from $3 the pair upwards. You haven't the slightest idea of the enormous quantity and number of styles we have in our establishment until you have seen them. Every pair is much less in price than they can be bought elsewhere, and most are less now than our own usual low prices.

BAR SILVER DECLINES IN LONDON

And So Does Cotton in America-Stocks Were Dull, with Dealings Small. Some a Little Higher.

NEW YORK, February 21.-The day at the stock exchange was the dullest for a long time past, the dealings in stocks foot-ing up only 100,000 shares. The dullness was due in part to the holiday and part to the due in part to the holiday and part to the fact that the senate has taken no definite action on tariff matters. The tendency of prices was upward until late in the day, when Chicago Gas, which had advanced I to 64, receded to 62%. The general list was strengthened by the recovery in wheat, a little buying for London and some covering by the local shorts. Many of the active tecks companying for use and stocks commanded a premium for use and in the case of Burlington and Quincy 11-16 per diem was paid. This rate more than offset the rumored defalcation by an employe of a big down town trust company, which afterwards turned out to be a very small affair, and the unfavorable reports of the Union Pacific and Atchison. Little was heard of gold shipments, although the market for sterling exchange ruled strong to the close. The stocks most prominent were General Electric, Sugar, Louisville, the Grangers, Western Union and Union Pacific. The rise was equal to 4/071/2 per cent, but a part of this was lost near the cent, but a part of this was lost near the close. In the final dealings the market was firm. Net changes for the day show gains of ½@1 per cent. Wisconsin Central rose 3 to 7½. Railway and miscellaneous bonds were strong. The sales comprised 74,000 listed and 25,000 unlisted. The treasury balances: Coin, $34,600,000; currency, $44,016,000. Money on call was easy at 1 per cent; last loan at 1 and closing offered at 1; prime mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent. Financial and Domestic News Bureau. Financial and Domestic News Bureas. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager NEW YORK, February 21.—Stocks closed at a sharp reaction from the best prices of the day. Traders were disposed to gose outstanding contracts on the long side over the holiday and sold General Electric and American Sugar Refining. The Grangers were a tritle lower in sympathy with the fall in wheat, and a report that passenger traffic showed little improvement over the preceding week. Western Union continued to command inside support, and the smaller shorts were uneasy over the scarcity of the stock in the loan market. Distillers and Cattle Feeding had to stand the brunt all day of an outpour of long stock, but the demand to cover shorts was sufficient to check any decline.

general expectations Liverpool opened signtly below last night's prices and lost another 1-64d and this with spot sales of only 8,000, caused disappointment here, and the opening was 3 points lower, and a subsequent decline took place, making a total loss for the day of 7 points. A part of this was recovered, but again declined, closing at the lowest, though steady. The market would not have sold as low as it did but for the announcement that Port Moyal would clear this week more than 8,000 bales, and as their receipts are not counted until they export them, they will appear in the port movement on Friday, adding, therefore, that much to the general receipts. It will increase the amount coming into sight from 70,000, our estimate, to perhaps $5,000 to 90,000, against 104,000 last year. Alchough Houston today received 800 bales, against 2,100 last year, St. Louis 200 against 1,000 and Memphis 700, against 600, the disposition seemed to be to lose sight of all these, and to point to Port Royal as the bearish element in the situation. It has become the fashionable thing to sell, and while there is a large amount of following of influential people who are against the market, it has been noticeable, both yesterday and today, that some very prominent and strong people have begun buying cotton, belleving, if not immediately, that in the very near future the people who have been recently selling will want to buy it back, and their expectations of doing this at lower prices may be very considerably disappointed. Spots continue inactive, and it may be that it will be necessary to wait a few ways for a realization of the improvement that we think the merits of cotton entitle it to. This opinion is shared by so many conservative and influential people as to make us feet that our view of the market is the correct one. The semi-weekly report of New Orleans shows the receipts of thirteen leading interior ports were 16,000, against 21,000 and stocks 292,000, against 354,000 last year. Port receipts today were 18,444, against 2 The following is the range of cotton futures in New York today:

The following are the closing quotations of future cotton in New Orleans today:

March 7.08 September 7.49
April 7.21 October 7.52
May 7.31 November 7.53 Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular,

NEW YORK, February 21.—By 1 o'clock today the New York market had declined some 6 points as compared with yesterday. In Liverpool prices at the close were about 2-64d below yesterday's figures, and the weaker character of the foreign news led to fresh liquidation in New York with the result of breaking the market at the opening about 2 points and forcing a further decline of 4 points as above noted. From this there was a feeble recovery on the news that New Orleans receipts tomorrow would be only about 1,300 to 1,300 bales against 3,084 last week and 2,380 last year. The firm who yesterday became prominent as large buyers of cotton were agian in the market today, and their purchases are estimated at from 10,000 to 1,5000 bales. This bold absorption on their part has prevented the derecombination that might otherwise against 3,084 last week and 2,300 last year. The firm who yesterday became prominent as large buyers of cotton were agian in the market today, and their purchases are estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000 bales. This bold absorption on their part has prevented the demoralization that might otherwise have developed in connection with the liquidation of the March position, which would seem to have been thoroughly completed today upon the basis of about 15 points difference between March and May. Memphis receipts today are 505 bales against 640 last year. St. Louis receipts are 212 bales against 1,153 last year. Houston receipts are estimated at 500 bales against 2,141 last year. Montgomery receipts for the week are estimated at 700 bales against 339 last week and 454 last year. A steamer that has been loading at Port Royal clears this week, and her cargo of 8,339 bales. will be included in the weekly movement, which will probably exceed 75,000 bales. A telegram from Paris, Tex., says that receipts there yesterday were 200 bales and today 300 bales, which is rather larger than had been expected. The semi-weekly interior movement as made up by the New Orleans exchang is as follows: Receipts 16,-288 bales, against 15,688 last week and 2,425 last year; shipments 21,609 against 22,557 last week and 27,580 last year; stocks 294,-312 against 304,450 last week and 352,042 last year. The loss in stocks for the week is about 10,000 bales since Friday. With regard to the consumption of fertilizers in North Carollina the commissioner of agriculture writes as follows: "The farmers of this state are buying very cautiously, and the sales are evidently less than they were a year ago. My opinion is that the sales of fertilizers in this state will be decidedly less than they were a liberal issue of notices is anticipated, it is thought that most of the contracts affected by them have been closed out, and the completing of this liquidation saems likely to have left the market in a more healthy position. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Circular.

NEW YORK, February 21.—Today justified the expectations of those who feared that the top-heavy condition of the market could only be relieved by a liquidation at the expense of values. The port receipts were not sufficiently meager to check the downward tendency in prices and the opening was at a decline of three points. Early in the day short covering gave some appearance of firmness to the market, but the presure to sell March continued and caused the whole list gradually to give way. There seemed little disposition on the part of the bears to press their advantage and the decline was slow and stubborn. Towards the close the eagerness to get out of March contracts increased and the weakness became more pronounced, but the decline invited fresh buying and the close was steady. The heavy liquidation that has taken place has undoubtedly laid a foundation for a healthy improvement, but the absence of home demand, together with the apathy that prevails in Liverpool and Havre, render it very uncertain when the improvement will come. The senate's delay in passing the tariff bill postponed the business revival. There seems little hope of a material advance in cotton until the tariff has been settled. onsidered a calamity under normal conditions, but when a decline in the white metal brings a decline in our only staple-cotton—there is a doubt in the minds of the people of this section as to whether the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law was a wise measure.

It is unreasonable to suppose that a lower price for silver would necessarily bring a lower price for cotton, yet, as has been the case for quite awhile, such is the fact, and when there is a decline in silver, it is followed by a corresponding decline in cot-

It is more than probable that the same influences obtain in both, and lower prices in one necessitates lower prices in the

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, February 21.—There was an absence of the vim and dash which characterized the last haif hour of trading in wheat yesterday in that market today. Nevertheless, there was pienty of strength with continued anxiety in the ranks of the bears. European markets did not fully respond to the buige and that placed a stumbling block in the path of the bulls. May wheat opened at 59%, sold between 59% and 60%; closing a shade under yesterday at 600%. Corn followed the action of wheat all day.

Common a shade thick the action of wheat all day. The feeling, therefore, was steady to firm. The opening was firm at yesterday's close, eased off ½, ralled ½67½ and at the close was a shade over yesterday. Outside markets were all steady. Cash corn was firm at ½6½ advance.

Oats vere very dull, the range being within ½c. limit and the close unchanged from yesterday. The firmness was from symmathy with wheat and corn.

within 4c. limit and the close unchanged from yesterday. The ilrmness was from sympathy with wheat and corn.

Previsions were firm on higher prices for live hogs and in speculative sympathy with wheat. The volume of trade was light and a scarcity of offerings contributed to the strength. May pork closed 7bc. higher; May lard and May ribs, unchanged.

There will be no session of the Chicago board of trade Thursday, February 22d—Washington's birthday.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager. CHICAGO, February 21.—The strong closing yesterday was not sustained this morning at the opening. Cables were not as encouraging ias expected, and some of the crowd who bought on yesterday's advance were free sellers, but around 59½c the demand became so brisk that prices quickly advanced ic per bushel, the shorts being the heaviest buyers. The advance, however, was met with severe opposition on the part of Partridge, and after selling 'at 60½ the feeling became easy and prices later declined ic. The bull reature is the continued good cash demand up in the northwest and the refusal of the French government to impose a duty on imported wheat. This latter item has really some merit in it, but Bradstreet's report was considered bearish, showing a decrease of only a trific over 900,000 bushels east and west of the Rockies, and a decrease of only about 1,000,000 in the world's visible supply. This caused a further depression, but the 'trade is in a very nervous condition, and it requires out very little buying or selling to affect the market.

Chicago Gossip. The advance in wheat on Tuesday seems to have fallen flat on the other side of the water, and the cables sent us yesterday were not encouraging.

As yesterday's advance was American, and for reasonable causes, it was thought by wheat traders that the better feeling would be continued for a few days, but the long side, as usual, was doomed to dis-

Prices in Chicago yesterday opened lower but immediately advanced and everything looked as if it would be a repetition of the market of the day before.

It is supposed that the cash demand was withdrawn, and silver declined. Wheat followed suit. By private wire to J. C. Knox, manager: Foreign markets didn't respond to our ad-

ITS FIRST PRESIDENT

Bis Birthday Will Be Observed by All Americans - What He Achieved and How It Was Accomplished.

is George Washington's birthday. One hundred and sixty-one years ago, in the county of Westmoreland, in the colony of Virginia, the babe that was destined to wax into one of the greatest men of all history, and to acquire the affectionate title "the father of his country," first saw the

It was not in a log cabin, indicative of numble circumstances, after the usual shion of American biography; but in a comfortable home which, though located on the frontier of Virginia, was redolent with the savor of the English aristocracy. It was a typical Virginia home after the easy independent fashion of those days which immediately preceded the American

There were no circumstances, attendant upon his birth which proclaimed him as a hild of unusual destiny; and yet in the heart of this obscure infant was planted the germ of a great empire. He was destined, s it were, to revolutionize the sentiment of the entire world; and after leading the victorious army of the patriots to announce the declaration that in the wisdom of the eople existed the only attributes of sover-

Senator Daniel's Opinion. To glance across the century, after the pse of so many years, which have wrought their attendant miracles, is a satisfying ocation even at this late day. The more the character of Washington is ered, the stronger it appeals to veneration. When Senator John W. Daniel a few years ago, at the unveiling of the Washington monument, pronounced his eulogy upon the life and character of the great American, he revealed a clear insight into all the hidden meaning of General Washing-ton's career. Said he, in one of the cli-maxes of his great speech: "Fascinated by the perfection of the man, we are loath to break the mirror of admiration into the fragments of analysis, but lo as we at-tempt it each fragment becomes the minia-ture of such sublimity and beauty, that the destructive hand can only multiply the forms of immortality."

No one would display the lack of patriotism that would be implied by a dispute of even this excessive eulogy. To the patriotic American, Washington was the greatest man who ever lived.

Two Nations Expelled. The position occupied by General Washingon, in American history, is one of manist peculiarity. He was the agent, in the hands of providence, raised up, as it were, for the pur-pose of expelling two powerful nations, who, at that time, held possession of this ountry.

The first of these was the French and the other was the English.

In serving notice upon the French to vacate their territory, he started what is known as the French and Indian war; and his trip to Fort DuQuesne, in the interest ans trip to Fort Duquesne, in the interest of the English, was really the preface to the final scene enacted on the plains of Abraham, at which time the French were routed from their possessions in this country, giving up all their strongholds along the St. Lawrence and the Mississippi.

His acceptance of the generalship of all the forces of the revolution was the inau-mation of that struggle which had Yorkfown for its consummation; in this way the English were routed from the soil and the American idea was established.

Washington's First Errand. The story of Washington's first errand, the heart of midwinter, through the wilds of an unexplored country, is one of peculiar fascination.

It proved his character, as the journey was one of great peril, and a man of ordinary calibre would never have undertaken it. In the weird, romantic way, which we are just about to describe, Washington was first introduced to the world.

The English at this custournessed.

English at this time outnumbered The English at this time outnumbered the French by a very heavy ratio, but the French held possession of two of the principal rivers of the country, the St. Lawrence and the Mississippi. Along these currents they had erected fort after fort until sixty of these fortifications extended all the way from Quebec to the mouth of the Mississippi river.

The English began to open their eyes to the situation, and saw that in order to acquire possession of the country, it was necessary to secure the strongholds of the French. The Ohio company, therefore, was organized to begin colonization in that direction. The wide-awake French, however, porceived the movement of the English and they were determined to look after their ground. Accordingly they began the erecground. Accordingly they began the erec-tion of new forts and other means of se-

It was necessary at this period to negowith the French, and Governor Dinwiddie, of Virginia, prepared a message which he desired to have sent to Fort du Quesne. There were no facilities of travel in those days, and the distance was a long and dreary stretch of over three hundred miles through dangerous and unfamiliar country. The country was full of Indians, who were not, by any means, friendly to the Americans, and the journey was one the Americans, and the journey was one which required great endurance as well as tourage and skillful diplomacy.

The man who volunteered was George Washington. In a straightforward manner be answered all of the questions which were put to him by Governor Dinwiddle; he was willing to encounter the perils of the trip; endure the cold; and was satisfied that he could accomplish the journey to the satisfaction of those who entrusted him with the course of the country of th with the errand. He accordingly set out. In good time the Journey was accomplished; the message brought to Governor Dinwiddle, and Wash-lation, by this first achievement, had pass to the bottom round of the ladder of immortality.

On his way back he narrowly escaped death, while passing through the solitude of a deep forest.

Later on when the French and Indian war began, it was the courage of Washing-

In the Revolution. When the French had been effectually routed from the soil and the attention of the colonies was next called to the English.

the colonies was next called to the English, brought on by the notorious stamp act, Colonel Washington was the man of the hour. He was selected as the commander-in-chief of the American army.

His career throughout the war for independence is familiar to every schoolboy in the land. The magnificence of his campaigns and the courage and daring displayed by his soldiers, especially at Valley Forge and in crossing the Delaware, has never been surpassed.

It is a matter of but slight marvel that the English were not able to subdue an army whose spirit was invincible and whose courage was equal to any emergency. In nearly all of the battles which were fought by Washington, from Trenton all the way down, the defiance that was destined to achieve the victory at Yorktown the way down, the defiance that was destined to achieve the victory at Yorktown was distinctly foreshadowed. The independence of the colonies and the successful planting of the American idea at Philadelphia was the logical result of all those virtues which were illustrated in the revolution and which had their center in the noble character of Washington.

Our First President. The genius of Washington was not by my means exhausted on the field. He proved that he was equally as great in states-manship as he was in military skill. manship as he was in military skill.

It was the unanimous voice of the people that called him to the head of the newly formed government; it was also the unanimous voice of the people that applauded the result of his first administration.

In the purity of his life, as well as the grandeur, of his intellect and character. of his intellect and character, is the loveliest and most desirable of all of Atlanta's many suburbs, the ideal place of the home-seeker; the place where your investment will rapidly increase in value.

It is situated directly east of the city on the north side of the Georgia railroad, only a short distance beyond the city limits. It is a ride of only a few minutes from the center of the city by the Decatur or East Lake electric line.

Running through the property are beautiful avenues and wide streets, well shaded. It is here at Union Square that you find the most beautiful shade trees, not to be found in any other suburb. Every lot is large, which insures purchasers plenty of room for servant's house, stables and vegetable gardens. Residents of Union Square have the advantages of stores, markets, postoffice, churches, schools and free delivery of all dally papers. If you have not seen the property and desire an ideal suburban home, where you will have all the conveniences of the city without its heavy expenses, go out and see Union Square. Now is the time to huy preparatory to building in the spring. Every inducement offered to home builders. For particulars call at the office of the Union Square Land Company, 40 Marietta street.

POSTMASTER AMOS FOX'S POSSESSIONS

A Pair of Old Decembers and Their Wonderful History-Mother Martha Brushed the Dust from Them.

Washigton's brthday is peculiarly significant to Postmaster Amos Fox.

Besides the sentiment and feeling of patriotism which the day usually inspires, the doctor has a more striking reminder in the shape of a pair of cut-glass decanters, which, in days of yore, actually graced the sideboard of our first and greatest president. After the death of General Washington, when his property was put on sale, the great-grandfather of Dr. Fox, who was also named Amos, purchased the decanters. Upon his death they came into the possession of his son, Dr. Fox's father. A few year before the death of this gentleman he made a present of these heirlooms to his most intimate friend, Major Henry Russell, elder of the Big Spring church. He, in his turn, held them as precious relics of the past, and decided that the best way to insure their preservation would be to present them as a part of the communion service to the church with which he was so long connected. This was accordingly done, and for more than a the communion services of the Big Spring church, in Kentucky. Several years ago, Mr. W. M. Duncan, who is a nephew of Dr. Fox, and who, at that time resided in Nashville, learned of the ole bottles, and determined to get possession of them. His efforts were success ful, and the church agreed to take in ex change a handsome silver communion ser soon as Mr. Duncan possession of the ancient decanters ne presented them to his uncle. Dr. Fox brought one of the bottles down to his office yesterday afternoon. It was a magnificent specimen of cut glass, heavy and large, resplendent with prismatic hues and glistening in all its pristine brilliancy. The bottom was large and full, gradually sloping down to a very narrow neck, which was bordered with a finck, circular mouth-plece. The old bottle looked as clean and as beautiful as it did when old Mother Martha used to brush the dust off it, and you could almost imagine the stately form of General George rising up like the genil from the vase.

"Oh yes," said Dr. Fox, "I place an untold value upon them and I wouldn't part with them for anything in the shape of money. I have been offered $1,000 and could get more if I wished to dispose of them. but they are dear to my heart as the mem-ory of my father, and that is beyond purchase and beyond price.

"I remember how they used to sit in my father's cupboard long ago and the sacred awe with which we children regarded them. It was a great pleasure to get the o'd decanters and know that they were in the family once more. "I have also in my possession the commission of Major Amos Fox, who was an officer under the command of Light Horse Harry. The following letter, which was written to Dr. Fox's nephew several years ago by Professor J. C. Tate, of the Clarkesville seminary in Tennessee, gives a history of the decanters, and is of especial interest: "Clarkesville, February 23, 1891.—W. M. Duncan. Dear Friend: During a recent visit to my old home, Bloomfield, Nelson county, Kentucky, in an interview with my old friend and pastor, Rev. J. N. Saunders D.D., pastor for twenty-five years of Big Spring Presbyterian church, situated two miles northeast of Bloomfield on the Taylorsville road, I learned from him that with the approval of the officers of that church he had exchanged the old-fashioned cut glass bottles, which had long been used as part of the communion service of the church, for a handsome silver communion service, I was surprised and grieved—surprised and grieved that they had, as I supposed, fallen into the hands of a stranger, who did not know their history, and that the church should have proven so unfaithil to a sacred trust. "I reminded Dr. Saunders of their history, which he had known, but for the time forgotten; I was satisfied, however, when he informed me the exchange had been made through you for your uncle, Amos Fox, of Atlanta, Ga.

"As I have certain knowledge of the history of those old bottles and there are few now living who have, I will give you a brief statement of the facts concerning

George Washington, 'the father of his country; always kept upon his sideboard-at Mount Vernon, familiar objects to the frequent visitors at that hospitable mansion, to whom, according to the universal custom of that day, their refreshing con-tents were freely and generously dispensed.
"At the sale of the general's personal property, after his death, they were pur-chased by your great-grandfather, Amos Fox, and by him they were bequeathed to his son and namesake, your grandfather, Amos Fox, who was a grown man at the time of the general's sale, and had personal knowledge of their nurchase by his father As you know, your grandfather subsequent ly removed to Nelson county, Kentucky, and settled near Bloomfield, where he lived until his death, more than forty years ago, respected, esteemed and honored by all who knew him for his upright and honest walk and his singular purity and loveliness of "A few years before his death he made a present of those precious heirlooms, the wine bottles of General Washington, to his most intimate and best beloved friend, Major Henry Russell, of sainted memory, elder of the Big Spring church. They were highly prized by the major, and it occurred to him that the best disposition to make of them, to secure their preservation and per-petuate their history and his own memory, would be to present them as part of the communion service of the church of which he had so long been a most beloved and usefu: member and outer. The gift was received in the spirit in which it was made. The bottles were sent to Louisville to have patent silver stoppers put on them, and as thus fitted up were in constant use at the communion service in the old church for more than a generation, and until 'another generation had arisen that knew not Joeph.'

"At the time of their presentation to the "At the time of their presentation to the church, I well remember, it was purposed to make a record of it and of their history. But unfortunately this was neglected, as I learn from Dr. Saunders, who has recently examined the church records.

"Under all the circumstances I am glad those venerable relies, those old family hairleoms, have lapsed juto the hands of heirlooms, have lapsed into the hands of Amos Fox, of the third generation, who, I trust, will better appreciate and more faithfully preserve them and their history than the church to which they were presented in the fond, vain hope that they would ever be known, prized and treasured for the sake of their worthy donor and because of their precious associations. NORFOLK AND WESTERN'S MOVEMENTS

The Electric Line to Austell Is Wel Equipped with Heavy Rails-Other News of the Rail.

'A considerable sensation was sprung upon the local railroad world yesterday, when the report came straight from authority that cannot well be questioned that the Atlanta and Florida and the Marietta and Georgia will be joined to form a grand trunk line of railways north and south, with Atlanta the central point. That such a deal is going to be made is accepted as something more than a mere railroad rumor.

It comes from good authority that there are two surveying parties already getting estimates on the cost of building a line from Marietta to Atlanta to join these two roads, and that they have been placed in the field by capitalists who have determined upon such a plan, and who are only waiting for the sale of the Marietta and North Georgia to finish up the scheme. The fact that these surveying parties are at work signifies that the plan is a go, but 4t cannot be ascertained just yet what syndicate is behind it all.

The recent rumors that the Norfolk and Western is after purchasing the Marietta and North Georgia comes in to give the report that this road will be extended to the Atlanta and Florida substantial footing. The Norfolk and Western is one of the greatest systems in the south Atlantic states, and it is well known that it has for a long time been seeking an outlet to the southern coast through Atlanta.

It is said that this system will build a line from Norton, which is its junction point with the Louisville and Nashville. to Knoxville, where it will connect with the Mariettà and North Georgia, and since the latter is to be sold on the 3d of March, it is said to be the purpose of the Norfolk and Western folks to buy it up and form the line to the southern coast contemplated in the plan To join it with the Atlanta and Florida, which can also be bought at very low cost, it is thought, just at this time. Some of the local railroad men had heard yesterday that it is the Louisville and Nashville that is after the Marietta and North Georgia, but the fact that it already has a line to Atlanta over the Western and Atlantic, which is almost paradel to this one, gives doubt to the rumor. It is, therefore, pretty generally believed that it is the Norfolk and Western that is going to be the highest bidder for the Marietta and North Georgia when it is put up for sale on the 3d of next month. It may be that the bondholders of the Marietta and North Georgia will buy the road when it is sold, and that they will take steps looking to the control of the Atlanta and Florida for the purpose of giving their line an outlet to the land oft he tropics. Colonel R. F. Maddox, who is prominently connected with the bondholders of the Atlanta and Florida, throws a good deal of light upon the rumors that are afloat when he tells of the communications that passed between the Atlanta and Florida officials and the principal bondholders of the Marietta and North Georgia a few months ago. Corin & Stanton, the eastern bondholders of the Marietta and North Georgia, sent a representative to Atlanta to make inquiry into the condition of the Atlanta and Florida. ' He was here several weeks and has made a report to the capitalists. It is known that the intentions of the men who own the Marietta and North Georgia were to get the Atlanta and Florida if they could do so advantageously.

It is said that the Atlanta and Florida is only bonded at about $8,000 per mile, and it is further stated that this road can be bought at about 50 cents on the donar, thus selling for about $4,000 per mile.

Whether these figures are reliable or not. it is safe to say that the road can be bought at a price not much more than they signify. The link that would be made in case the Norfolk and Western secures the two roads would be from Norton, Tenn., to Knoxville, there connecting with the Marietta and North Georgia, which already runs to Ma-rietta, and at Marietta building a line twen-ty miles in length to Atlanta, where the junction with the Atlanta and Florida is secured for Fort Valley. It would be but a short link to build from Fort Valley, the present southern terminal of the Atlanta and Florida, to the Plant system, where connection could be made for all points in Florida and along the southern coast. It May Be the East Tennessee.

It is told as a kind of mysterious pro-ceeding that the street railway company that is now at work on a line from Atlanta to Austell is laying the heaviest of rail-road track along its roadbed and otherwise equipping the line as though they were building a regular railroad, and not simply

Why should the company be putting such heavy work upon their road, if it is to be nothing more than an electric street rail-Right along in this connection it is told that a mortgage was signed up before Judge Bloodworth the other day to the extent of $75,000 by the men who are moving along with the road to Austell.

All of this seems to indicate that a big railroad company or syndicate is behind the company that was chartered under the name of an electric line, and that the track that is being made so perfect is going to be used by a railroad, and not an electric line

It is known that the East Tennessee, It is known that the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia has no track into Atlanta from Austell, having used the track of the Georgia Pacifile for many years, and the presumption is reasonable that it is this company that is having the track laid.

The East Tennessee has a great deal of trouble in getting its freights into Atlanta wenever there is any heavy traffic caused.

trouble in getting its freights into Atlanta wenever there is any heavy traffic caused by the Georgia Pacific people, for the track belonging to the latter, the East Tennessee Is crowded back from it in case of any sort of delays. This works against the interest of the East Tennessee considerably when it is considered that it suffers great loss from the destruction of perishable freights caused by such delays. It is an important piece of railroad news if this be true.

Probably Not True.

Probably Not True. Probably Not True.

It was reported yesterday that Major Stahlman has declared that if the Louisville and Nashville pulls out of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association and there is another association formed, he will resign as commissioner of the former. It is said that in case Major Stahlman resigns he will be a candidate for the United States senate from the state of Tennessee.

Mr. Kight is one of the best known railroad men in this entire region of country, and is considered one of the shrewdest passenger men in the business south of the He says that he is going to make Atlanta his home until he is permanently located again with some south Atlantic line.

Hard Weather on Railroads.

Railway men have hitherto been congratulating themselves upon the favorable weather of the past few months, which has served as some small offset to the other hardships under which railways have been suffering this winter. But the storms of the past week in which railways have he past week (in which at least two of the past week in which at least two trains in different states have been blown bodily off the tracks, several more or less serious collisions occurred, and 'n various instances fast limited passenger trains be-came so embedded in snow drifts that it has taken six or eight engines to pull them out again) seem to have fairly evened up the winter's account between the weather man and the railways.

Changing Around. Macon, Ga., Februhry 21.—(Special.)— Trainmaster C. L. Brunner, of the South-western railroad, has been made train-master of the Central main system from Ma-con to Atlanta, and Conductor Jess Hall has been made trainmaster of the South-western railroad.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Colonel W. K. Reaves, the agent for the state in charge of the Northeastern rail-road, has been in the city for a couple of days in consultation with the governor.
"I don't care," said he, "to make any boasts about the business which the road has been doing since I took charge of it, but I will say this much, that it is doing much better than we expected. During De-cember we were able to make a very fine showing and I hope we will be able to keep that up, though, of course, business varies in the different months of the year. any rate so far it has been very favorable."

The governor has granted a pardon to Phil Harris, of Oglethorpe county, who was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary in 1887 for rape. It has been shown that he is seriously ill and that while he has served nearly seven years of his sen-tence, there is still some doubt as to his

The New Norcross Building Is Going to Be an Adornment

TO THE OLD JACOBS'S CORNER

All About the Plans for the New Build ing-It Will Go Up Right Speedily After the Latest Plans.

The plans for the Norcross building on the corner of Marietta and Peachtree streets have been accepted and the handsome structure will go speedily up to adorn that locality of the city.

The building will be one of the prettlest and most handsome to be found in the south. It will be after the latest and most desirable plans and will certainly add much to the appearance of that particular region

It will be seven stories high on Marietta street and eight stories on Peachtree, the grade of Peachtree giving room for another story to even up the height on Marietts. The basement will be on Peachtree. The structure will extend fifty feet on

A New Style of Burgiar Proof Safe on Its Way to Atlanta.

A gigat tic specimen of safety vaults will arrive in Atlanta shortly and from its description nothing equal to it has ever been south. It is to be used in the new offices of the Trust Company of Georgia, which are being fitted up in the large court of the Equitable brilding. The foundations for the enormous safe have now been completed, and when everything is in working order, the big vault and the company's offices will be one of the most distinctively striking features in the Equitable.

The following is an extract from a Hamilton, O., paper containing a full description of the burgiar terrorizer:

"The Mosler safe works have just completed a fine vault of the most modern and improved design for the Trust Company of Georgia, Atlanta, Ga. This vault has been on exhibition at the Mosler shops in East Hamilton, and has been viewed with interest by many people. It is most ingeniously constructed to circumvent and baffle that interesting gentleman, the professional burgiar, and is the perfection of that class of work. It was shipped today to its destination. Its weight is 200,000 pounds, that is nearly inflety-one tons. A ponderous piece of work surely, and one calculated to resist a whole park of artillery. Its lining is twelve inches thick and is made of Brooklyn chrome steel. Its doors are six and a half inches thick, of solid metal. It is sixteen by eighteen feet as to breadth and depth, and is sixteen feet high. It is made in two stories and a handsome and ornate stairway leads to the second story, where there is an ornamental balcony. The upper vault will be used for banking purposes, while the lower, in which there will be nearly two thousand boxes,

THE NEW NORCROSS BUILDING. To be Erected on the Corner of Marietta and Peachtree Streets-From Designs Drawn by Mr. G. L. Norman.

It is a very desirable corner, right in the heart of the city, and for this reason Mr. Norcross was determined to make the new building one that will match the importance of its locality. He has determined to spare neither endeavor nor money in the construction of the new building and will give the contract to parties that will make it one of the best buildings in the city of Atlanta. The plans were made by Mr. G. L. Norr-

man, the well-known architect. Mr. Norrman is one of the most thorough artists in his line of work to be found in the south He does a great deal of work for patrons in many southern cities and his work is greatly admired in Charleston, Augusta, Montgomery, Savannah and everywhere it has been seen.

All of his plans for buildings of this sort have been right up to date, and the Atlanta public may easily expect to see the old Jacobs corner adorned with one of the prettiest buildings to be seen in the southern

Mr. Jonathan Norcross is a great believer in the future of Atlanta. Being one of the oldest citizens of the town and having observed closely the growth of the city for the past fifty years he has learned enough as bright as the summer day is long.

For reasons such as these he has determined to do no half way business in the construction of his new building. He will spend about $125,000 on the new building. He will fit it up with electric elevators, gas fixtures, electric lights, steam heating appliances and everything that serves to make the modern buildings of the great cities comfortable and perfect in their appointments.

He has had the property in hand for fifty years. He purchased it away back in the early days of Atlanta long before the war swept the face of the earth clean in this region of the south.

It is certainly gratifying to the Atlanta public that so handsome a building is going to go up on the principal street corner of the central part of the city. The Genuine and the Sham.

The Genuine and the Sham.

Every good thing has its host of imitators; every genuine article its counterfeits. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "so-and-So's" the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuine merit of the thing it copies and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of ALL-COCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Allcock's POROUS PLASTERS.

Allcock's Porous Plaster is the standard of excellence the world over, and its imitators in their cry that theirs is "as good as Allcock's" are only emphasizing this fact and admitting "Allcock's" to be the acme of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wide as that between copper and gold.

The only safe way for purchasers is to always insist upon having AllcOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. They are the only perfect plasters ever produced.

WAS A TEST CASE.

O. G. Venable, Who Was Charged with Running a Lottery, Not Guilty.

MANY MERCHANTS MIGHT HAVE TROUBLE

But for Judge Westmoreland Sustaining Story or the Accusation-The

Some time ago Mr. O. G. Venable, a well-known young man, who for some time has been conducting a cigar business, was detained on a warrant charging him with running a lottery. He demanded an instant trial, was bound over by Justice Bloodworth and gave bond.

Judge Westmoreland dismissed the warrant yesterday, sustaining the demurrer entered by the plaintiff.

The focts back of the case are very in-

The facts back of the case are very ineresting. Just before the Christmas holidays a number of merchants in many different lines of business instituted what was termed a "drawing." With every purchase they would give a small slip, or ticket, numbered, every one being in regular order. This ticket gave the purchaser of a certain amount of goods a chance at some valuable article to be decided by a drawing. Among these was Mr. Venable. With every ten-cent purchase he gave a ticket which enti-tled the helder to a chance on a handsome gold watch. This gold watch caught the eye of many purchasers, and among them was Mr. C. T. Bunch. To every ticket that Venable gave out, there was a duplicate. This duplicate was put in a box, and when the drawing occurred there were found to be two duplicates to the number drawn. A Chinaman held one and Mr. Bunch the other. The Chinaman reached the cigar stand first and secured the watch. When Mr. Bunch called and showed his ticket, he was informed that the watch had been drawn, but the genuineness of his ticket was acknowledged; through some oversight or carelessness there had been four tickets of the same number. Mr. Venable suggest-ed that Mr. Bunch might take a box of cigars, or something as a compromise, but Mr. Bunch wanted the watch, as he thought he was entitled to it, and swore out a warrant charging Venable with running warrant charging Venable with running a lottery.

In court yesterday morning the attorneys for Venable demurred to the accusation against their client. They declared that there was nothing set up to show that the ticket was paid for, or that it had any value; that there was no allegation to the effect that Mr. Bunch did not receive the full value of his morner in the receive the effect that Mr. Bunch and not receive the full value of his money in the goods pur-chased. Judge Westmoreland, as stated, sustained the demurrer. Had he decided otherwise there are any number of merchants who might have been arraigned on the same charge and given much trouble by disgruntled holders of tickets to their drawings.

At the Grand Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, that charming actress, Katie Putnam, in "The Little Maverick" and "Love Finds a Way," will appear. A souvenir will be given to every lady at the matinee in the shape of an elegant cabinet photo of Miss Pitnam. Of "The Little Maverick" an exchange says:

"It is a pulsating life picture that compels enemies to touch hands and friends hearts to mingle in a closer bond. It makes the lover's kiss more chaste and constant, and draws the careless wife or husband back to the fresh, pure raptures of the honeymoon. It preaches a better sermon than many a puipit and a patriotism as broad as the United States.

"With such a play and her own well proved talent, it is not surprising that Miss Putram as May Percy achieved a new triumph in a field already synonymous with victory. She 'held the mirror up to nature' with an unfaltering hand and a precision born of a broad and accurate grasp of the entire character. From the hoydenish Texas maiden to the cultured, refined woman, there was a naturalness that precluded art and caused one to forget she was acting. Fun, wit, sentiment and pathos were musgled delightfully, and she drew at with hearty laughter or sympathetic tears from her audience.

"The Crust of Society."

"The Crust of Society" is announced for Monday and Tuesday at the Grand. The following complimentary notice is clipped from The Birmingham Age-Herald of Feb-following complimentary notice is clipped from The Birmingham Age-Herald of rebruary 9th:

"The Crust of Society,' one of Dumas's greatest productions, was the bill at O'Brien's last night, and, notwithstanding the inclement weather, was well attended. This play, contrary to the general run of dramas, does not end with a tragedy, but the leading character passes again into the strata of society from whence she halled. It is remarkably strong, and the cast producing it comprised some of the leading people in that class or theatricais on the American stage, viz: Miss Elita Proctor, Reffie Tilbury, Lydia Thompson and Charlotte Neilson, Arthur Lewis, John Flood, Henry Baynton and others.

"The performance was of the highest order and was appreciated to a marked degree. There was a decided absence of what are termed, theatrically, sticks, and is the highest compliment that can be passed upon those in the cast."

Engagement of Salvini.

"Romance Redivivus" will be the motto at the Grand opera house Wegnesday and Thursday, when Alexander Salvini, the foremost romantic actor of the day, will again be seen by his Atlanta admirers. The engagement is attracting unusual attention and it will be one of the social and artistic events of the year. Theater parties are being organized all over the city and when the sale opens it will go with a rush. Mr. Wilkison, director of the company, yesterday announced the repertoire of the engagement as follows: Thursday evening, the opening night, "The Three Guardsmen," the greatest work of one of the greatest fiction writers. Salvin has been seen here before as D'Artaganan, but now he comes with a company which will introduce William Redmund as Athos, William Harris as Parthos, John A. Lane as Buckingham, Ben Johnson as the cardinal, Augusta de Forrest as Lady de Winter, and Maude Dixon as Constance. Such a cast would delight Dumas himself. At the Thursday matinee Salvini will be seen as "Ruy Blas," his first appearance in the part in this city, and Thursday night he will present his new dramatic play, "Zamar." Each play will be given a magnificent scenic production. The demand for seats has already set in and orders are coming in from surrounding towns by mail. Next to the Patti engagement that of Salvini promises to be the most brilliant of the season. Engagement of Salvini.

The Prices Are Matchless Cheapness

Men who knew Clothing and knew the public taste did the buying, and they bought in such quantities that the least of little prices were always commanded. It startled the happy-/ go-lucky Clothiers to see what little profits we were contented with. But when we began to whack like this, competitors began to worry:
